FRANCE.

THE FRANCO ITALIAN DIFFICULTY.

VERSAILLES, September 9.—La Patrie this morning says that Nigra, the Ambassador from Italy to France, was well received by Thiers, and read a long dispatch from the Italian Government. The interview is supposed to have been favorable to the preservation of good feeling between France and Italy.

GERMAN EVACUATION.

PARIS, September 9.—The forts of three or four departments surrounding the city are to be evacuated immediately by the German troops. The Department of Oisse is to be occupied until the third half milliard indemnity is paid.

INTERVIEW ARRANGED.

LONDON, September 9.—An interview between Thiers and Prince Gortschakoff has been arranged to take place at Lausanne, Switzerland.

CONSPIRACY.

PARIS, September 10.—A conspiracy has been discovered at Toulon to burn the arsenal and liberate the convicts.

DIED.

Count Bouet Willaumez, Vice Admiral of the French Navy, died yesterday, aged sixty-three.

THE EVACUATION.

General Manteuffel, commander of the German army of occupation, after announcing yesterday the consent of his government of the evacuation of the departments around Paris, dined with President Thiers and General Ducrot and Chanzy. The northern forts will be evacuated first, after which the troops will be withdrawn from other points at the rate of three thousand daily.

MORTALITY.

The number of deaths in Paris during the last week were nine hundred and fourty-three. The returns show that typhoid fever is increasing and becoming epidemic.

TAX BILL.

Minister Rouhert Quertier has introduced in the Assembly, as a provisional and temporary measure, a bill levying one-tenth of the proposed increase in taxation to meet the immediate demand of the government. The bill finds considerable opposition in the Chamber.

THE SITUATION.

NEW YORK, September 9.—The Journal De Paris, of August 28, received to-day, in an article upon the increasing evidences of discouragement which have been shown in the conduct of the Assembly and government, says the deplorable struggle of late entered upon between Thiers and the majority has borne its fruits. The union of the liberal and conservative forces effected last February is dissolved. Resolution and Caesarism which are in reality one and the same thing, are regaining the ground which they lost. The country is in search of a guide-post, but can find it neither in the government, which no longer follows the majority, nor in the majority, which is afraid of making the former walk in its footsteps. It will seek this guiding hand either on the benches of the Left, or at Chiselhurst. Every one sees this double peril—the peril of a demagogic revolution or of an Imperialist restoration. Every one feels that we are being dragged towards a gulf in which the last debris of our public and the private fortune of our social principles, of our morality and honor will be swallowed up. Were nothing but intelligent and clear-seeing minds necessary for the salvation of a people, we are well supplied. They are not wanting, either in the government benches, (particularly at the head of the government), or on the side of the majority. But other qualifications are essential in these troublous times—resolution, abnegation of self force of character, in a word, men. Let us away with this barren and profitless contemplation of our woes, which is the sole occupation just now of the government, as of the majority and country itself. Discouragement is a bad school-master. Let some man show himself either in the Assembly or in the country. Let him have courage to speak manly language, which great perils put into great hearts, and this nation, if she is not utterly dead, will respond to the call.

A Paris correspondent of the London Times, August 27, referring to the intrigues of Gambetta for political ascendency, says that he has been surreptitiously stirring up the country to agitate and petition for immediate dissolution of the National Assembly. The effect of this agitation all through the country seems to have pricked the conscience of Faidherbe, and he tendered his resignation. A significant feature is that it is the first step towards the resignation of the whole extreme Left en masse; for it is thus that they hope to force the chamber to a dissolution. This step gained, their project is for Gambetta and Faidherbe to come forward as candidates in all the eighty six departments in France and claim the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the Republic on the strength of being elected in the majority of them.

BRIGHTON, England, September 9.—A letter dated August 25th, from the deceased international leader, Karl Marx, is published, in which he says that the number of Communal refugees arriving in London is on the increase, while the means of supporting them is daily on the decrease. An appeal for assistance to Americans was to be made. He expresses contempt for Thiers, whom he declares to be as cowardly in his relations with foreign powers as he is unscrupulous in regard to his disarmed countrymen. He did not think that Cluseret was a traitor, but he lacked mettle and did great harm to the Commune. As to Cluseret's whereabouts, he knew nothing.

THE BALLOT.

NEW YORK, September 9.—London papers of the date of the 29th were received by last night's mail. They contain the letter of Gladstone on the subject of the ballot, in which he expresses his regrets at the rejection of the bill by the Lords, and says that the Government does not intend to recede from the cause it has deliberately adopted, and which the House of Commons and the country have approved.

THE LATE DUBLIN TROUBLES.

NEW YORK, September 9.—The London Telegraph, of August 29th, commenting upon the late disturbances in Dublin, says that the policy pursued towards Ireland is not calculated to awaken a very great spirit of affection among the Irish people for the English government. It thinks that if Ireland were shown justice, affection on her part would follow.

Germany, continues the Kreuz Zeitung, writes to Austria to be strong, and the statesmen desire a union with Italy.

EMPEROR WILLIAM.

BERLIN, September 10.—Emperor Wilhelm has arrived at Constance.

THE CHURCH TROUBLES.

NEW YORK, September 9.—A prominent citizen of Munich, just arrived here from that city, where he has been in close relations with the head of the church parties of Germany, states that the so-called "church movement" in that country is greatly exaggerated. The Congress occurring this month in Munich, it will result in nothing. It is mainly made up of men who who have hitherto had no status in the Catholic Church, and it can exert no influence on the great body of German Catholics one way or another. Dollinger declined to attend it; he futhermore avowed his want of sympathy with the objects which it seeks. The Professor, who is now living in retirement in his country seat near Munich, maintains that he is still within the pale of the Catholic Church, and declares that he has committed no act to place him in an antagonistic position to her true interests. The Prime Minister of Bavaria, though anti-infallibilist himself, refuses to countenance any action aiming at church division. In nearly all the large cities there are many rejectors of the doctrine of infallibility, but in the main they are strongly averse to having the subject in any way made a State issue. Besides this, there is a strong feeling throughout the whole empire that the government cannot at this junction afford to complicate itself in church difficulties While the great European Catholic countries are undisturbed by any symptoms of church dissensions, it would be unwise for Germany to become involved, single handed, in an issue which would only serve to weaken her politically. The death of the Pope, however, at the present time would be likely to cause a tremendous church revolution, not only throughout Germany, but nearly all the European Catholic powers.

DAMAGE TO RAILWAYS.

The Berlin correspondent of the London Times, writing on August 26th, says that the consequences of the war have been so disastrous upon the railways that Germany, which heretofore experienced but few railway accidents, now bids fair to outrival the most prolific countries producing them. The railway directors think it will be a long time before the damages caused by the war can be repaired.

SOUTH AMERICA.

ATTEMPTED REVOLUTION IN PERU.

CALLAO, August 22.—The government received information about ten days ago that conspirators intended to attempt a revolution on the morning of the 16th, surprise the palace and make President Balta a prisoner, and that some of the troops had promised to join the revolution. The conspirators consequently failed and were arrested. Among them were two military officers and three prominent citizens. It is not known in whose favor the revolution was to have been attempted. Arms and ammunition have been seized in boxes marked "Telegraph Company." The houses of many civilians have been searched for arms.

SETTLED.

An inquiry into the collision between the English merchant ship Donald Mackay and American ship Henry L. Sanford, has resulted in an agreement that the latter pay the former $2,500.

A severe shock of earthquake was felt on the 21st.

MEXICO.

THE REVOLUTIONISTS.

CITY OF MEXICO, August 28.—It is reported on good authority that Lerdo has joined Juarez, in which case the re-election of the latter as President is certain.

Prominent frontier chiefs, Cavelles, Dargas, Trevino, Guerago and Martinez, are prepared to issue pronunciamentos immediately if Juarez is declared President.

The merchants of Tampeca refuse to pay the Government duties exacted from them by the revolutionists, and the troops are in consequence closing the commercial houses. The people are alarmed, the merchants protesting, and the conduct of the Government is likely to result in an open declaration of opposition.

Much excitement exists in this city respecting the first meeting of Congress.

Fears of conspiracy and revolution prevail. Three hundred rebels are operating in Zacatecas, and others in Michoacan.

In the island of Saba the growing crops were destroyed.

PERSIA.

The Saratoga Races.

SARATOGA, September 8.—The American crews are selling very well to-night. Considerable confidence is felt in some quarters that they may take the first prize. The following pools were sold to-night: Taylor-Winship. 20, 25, 30. Wards—10, 10, 8, 8. Tyne—7, 8, 8, 9. The crews are placed as follows for the start: Renforth, Biglin, Taylor-Winship, Duchess County, Pittsburgh and Ward. All the crews are in good trim. The wind has been lighter to-day. A good day is anticipated to-morrow. There are fewer arrivals than we expected to-night, but heavy trains are looked for to-morrow.

SARATOGA, September 9.—The arrivals of visitors this morning were very heavy. Every vehicle in town is engaged, and large crowds are footing it by Union avenue to the lake.

Pools were sold this morning as follows: Taylor-Winship, $175, $170; Ward Brothers, $51, and $60; Tyne, $48 and $51; Biglin, $35 and $31; field, $15 and $15. There is a pretty fresh wind blowing at this time (twelve o'clock), but it is expected the wind will subside by the time the start is made. Confidence in the Ward Brothers is increasing.

LATER.—The regatta did not come off to-day, owing to the high wind which prevailed. No less than thirty thousand people are estimated to have been present on the shores of the lake. The four-oared race will come off on Monday at ten o'clock, and the single scull race at four o'clock P. M.

SARATOGA, September 10.—Nearly everybody remained over to see the regatta to-morrow, and the hotels are crowded. The crews took their regular exercise today at the lake, and are in good condition. A light rain fell this evening, but there are indications of clear weather. The four-oared race comes off at ten o clock A. M., and the single scull race at four o'clock in the afternoon. Pools were sold on Saturday night at about $125 for Sadler to $55 for the field in the single scull race. Doubts are entertained about Coulter's starting. Fred Nunn, of the McKee crew is ill, and his place will be filled by Geo. Verner, of Pittsburgh.

POLITICAL.

Unpopular Nominations.

CLEVELAND, O., September 9.—The gentlemen who represent the Republicans of the county, who are opposed to the regular tickets on account of the nominees not being sufficiently representative, and as not being sound on the Liquor and Sunday Law question, and who were put in nomination in opposition to the ticket, have had a correspondence with the Central Committee of the Democratic party of the county, and the result is they have put in nomination a ticket for State Senators, Representatives and County Commissioner, composed of two Democrats and the remainder Republicans. A general meeting of citizens, without regard to party association, who are opposed to the election of the regular Republican ticket, is called to be held at the Central Rink on Saturday, September 16th.

Meeting at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, September 9.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the whites and blacks of Claiborne parish was held here to-day. There was great unanimity. All the business houses were closed. The resolutions ignore federal politics; insist on the most rigorous economy in the State expenditures consistent with dignity; protecting all classes of all colors in the free exercise of civil and political rights; the adoption of laws adequate to punish official speculation and malfeasance; the abolition of unnecessary offices; repeal of the election and printing laws; disavow sympathy with any existing political party or clique; rebuke appeals to the prejudices of the past, and call on every parish in the State to meet and appoint delegates to the State Convention.

UNION LEAGUE.

It is expected that business important to the Republican party will be brought before the meeting of the National Executive Committee of the Union League, to be held at Philadelphia, on Wednesday next, at one o'clock.

RELIEVED NAVAL OFFICERS.

An order from the Naval Department provides for the renewal of the order of last year providing for the employment of relieved officers above the rank of Lieutenant Commander, except naval constructor, on active service, except as members of the light house board and at naval asylums. The boards for the examination of officers for promotion and retired list are consolidated.

POSTAL AFFAIRS.

On receipt of the information that the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad is running trains regularly between Attala, Alabama, and Meridian, Miss., a distance of two hundred miles, the Postoffice Department directed the Postmaster at Chattanooga to send mails to the far points on said section by way of Dalton, Rome and Jackson, to be transported from the latter point to Atlanta by stage, the railroad being now closed between Chattanooga and Attala.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

H. Birdell, Superintendent of Indian Affairs in Arizona, reports that the affairs of that agency are in a critical condition as regards an outbreak upon the reservation. The Pima Indians, by their threats, have caused the licensed traders to close up their store on the reservation. They threaten to tear down their house and take the goods because the traders will not pay silver for their wheat, which has never been done on the reservation. He has solicited assistance from Fort McDonald, the nearest military post.

EMIGRATION REPORTS FOR FRANCE.

Judge Richardson has recently written from Paris to the Secretary of the Treasury, urgently requesting copies of the report on emigration. Consul General Read expressed a desire to have copies of the report for distribution in France. He says that recently he has had numerous inquiries on the subject of emigration to our country; that he could use to great advantage one hundred copies. In view of the urgency of the appeal, there has been forwarded to Read nearly all the copies that remained for distribution.

WASHINGTON, September 10, 1871.

INTERNAL REVENUE DECISION.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue decides that articles liable to the stamp duties under schedule C must have stamps affixed before they leave the premises of the manufacturer, irrespective of the kind of packages employed for putting the same into market, whether such packages be of the ordinary and usual size, or extraordinary, or what is frequently termed, "packing in bulk;" such package must have a stamp or stamps indicated by the retail price, as the price for the single package with its contents. A dealer may sell directly from the package which has been properly stamped according to the price paid for the package and contents, without affixing additional stamps; but a dealer who breaks the original package and packs its contents into small packages, putting thereon his marks and labels, will be required to stamp these small packages when exposing or offering the same for consumption or sale. The manufacturer in every case must stamp the package in which he delivers his goods to customers, whether the customer furnishes his own vessel for the reception of the article or whether it is furnished by the manufacturer himself.

THE WEATHER.

The barometer has continued higher north and west of Indiana, and clear weather with light winds are now reported from that region. A slight depression has continued over the lower lakes, with northeasterly winds; clouds and a light rains this afternoon. The barometer has fallen somewhat in the Middle and Eastern States, where partially cloudy and clear weather is reported. The storm which was on Saturday evening some dis off the South Carolina coast, is now beyond the cognizance of our stations. Norteasterly winds have prevailed from Virginia to Florida, and a small disturbance which passed into Southern Georgia has now disappeared. The temperature is very generally stationary or rising, but has fallen on Lake Ontario.

Probabilities.—The barometer will probably rise very generally on Monday from Michigan to Alabama and eastward, with partially cloudy and pleasant weather on the lakes and the Atlantic coast. Fresh winds without serious disturbance on the Gulf coast.

It is supposed that, while intoxicated, he drove too near a ravine, upsetting the wagon.

NEW YORK, September 9, 1871.

KU-KLUX AFFAIRS.

President Grant has informed the interviewer of the Herald, at Long Branch, that there will be no immediate action upon the report of Senator Scott, touching the Ku-Klux outrages in South Carolina. Among the reports which the President has received is a contradictory one to that of Scott, from Spartansburg county, signed by twenty-six citizens, including the United States Commissioner, United States Assessor, Probate Judge and Sheriff, denying that any of the alleged acts of violence were perpetrated by the Ku-Klux.

POLITICAL NOTES.

At a large meeting of Germans in the Tenth ward last evening, the proceedings of the Cooper Institute citizens' meeting, and the subsequent action of the Executive Committee, were endorsed. Resolutions similar to those adopted at Cooper Institute were enthusiastically passed. Several speakers denounced the "Tammany Hall knaves."

There are various rumors among city politicians, that Peter B. Sweeny contemplates withdrawing from the Tammany ring, and that he will not only forsake Tammany itself, but he will aid in the measures taken by the Citizens' Association Committee.

The Tribune believes that Mr. Sweeny has endeavored to secure the resignation of Messrs. Tweed and Connolly, and that the latter did, last week, tender his resignation, but it was subsequently withdrawn. Mr. Tweed not only declined to resign, but it is believed he succeeded in inducing Mr. Sweeny to modify his programme. Mr. Tweed states to the reporters that he will have special counsel in the injunction suit on Monday, and that some of the best lawyers in this city had informed him that the case against the city officials could not be sustained. He has not concerned himself much about the newspapers recently, and is anxious to retire wholly from political life.

The chairman of he Cornell Republican State Central Committee, in a rejoinder to-day, in reply to Mr. Greeley, reiterates the statements made in his former communication, and accuses Greeley with having been placed at the head of the late General Committee by a Tammany trick, and with being responsible for the existing dissension among the Republicans in this city.

The fight between Fenton and the Conkling faction has extended itself to Brooklyn, where, at a late meeting of the Republican General Committee, the conclusion was reached that the holders of offices under Democratic authority should not be nominated or supported for any elective office. The Tribune, which thinks that the action was aimed at a Fenton man named Bliss, who holds office, and prints the names of fifty-seven federal office-holders who are members of the Republican Central and Grant Central Committees, and says that in consequence of his complexion the committees of the anti-Fenton faction have things all their own way.

THE TAMMANY FRAUDS.

Owing to the injunction the City Chamberlain did not pay out any money yesterday, and no warrants for money were given to the city's creditors.

On Monday the Corporation Counsel will present an exhibit of the present condition of the finances of the county.

The Tribune believes it will still require great vigilance, great industry and unfailing prudence to finish the work of breaking the power of Tammany. But for the first time in many years, it now seems clearly possible. The insolent confidence of the rogues seems to be giving way. This is the best encouragement for honest men. There seems to be much doubt as to the course which Peter B. Sweeny intends to pursue, some contending that he has had a breach with his Tammany associates, while others declare that this is simply rumor. Sweeny was one of the principal movers in securing the adoption of the present charter a year ago. His power in the ring is said to be next to that of Tweed and Hall. He was originally included as defendant in all the allegations in the Foley suit, but was subsequently excluded, except so far as he is connected with the present city government as commissioner of public parks, the allegations in regard to the ring peculations by means of the New York Printing Company and other corrupt associations, being withdrawn as to him. The injunction order applied to him only as a member of the Board of Apportionment, which is simply commanded to meet and fix the amount to be raised according to law during the year 1871.

Some of the Tammany people think that the injunction will have the effect to stop payments to the laborers employed under the city government. It is thought, however, that this is not the case. The workingmen have had nothing to say on the subject thus far. It is believed if they were affected in the way stated, they would have been heard from in the premises by this time.

THE ITALIANS.

The Italians of this city are beginning to show signs of activity in various ways. They have a movement on foot to raise an Italian regiment, and are still discussing ways and means for abolishing the organ grinding business. They are now exercised about the political situation. Since the refusal of Mayor Hall to review their procession, they have been somewhat incensed against that officer, and threaten to raise a political club, which may afford a nucleus for the overthrow of Tammany. They are a very numerous body in the region of Five Points, where the preliminaries of this organization have already been initiated.

GOLDSMITH MAID.

Bonner doubts that Goldsmith Maid beat Dexter's time on the Cold Springs course. He said that if she had trotted a mile in 2:17, it would leave her behind Dexter, for he trotted in the presence of ten thousand people, in 2:16—although beaten at that race by a running horse, who made it in 2:15, and therefore got the record. He offers to pay $100,000 for a horse which will beat Dexter's feat of a year ago, trotting a mile in 2:21¼, with a road wagon and a driver weighing three hundred and nineteen pounds behind him. If the owner of that horse declines to sell him, Bonner will give $10,000 for the pleasure of seeing the feat performed.

JUST CRITICISM.

The London Telegraph of August 28th severely criticizes the manner in which the trials of capital cases are conducted in this country. It cites as illustrations the cases of Lavina Fair, of California, and the Foster case in this city. It thinks there is no country in the world where women have been more sedulously taught that they are not amenable to the same laws which control the actions of men. Liberated Fairs and rescued Fosters in every American city may be expected while Americans allow long periods to intervene between the death sentence and its execution.

SOUTHERN REPUBLICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

A delegation of the Southern Republican Press Association, appointed by the recent convention at Washington, waited on the President at Long Branch yesterday, and made complaint that the Republican press of the North ignored the Republican press of the South, and that the latter was left almost entirely in the background as to Government patronage. Other abuses in the interests of Republicans were presented. The President promised to give these matters his attention.

THE ABORTIONISTS.

The allusion to the abortion business in Judge Bedford's charge to the grand jury has been the means of directing public attention to the New York statutes on the subject of these crimes, especially as they affect newspapers in which advertisements of practising abortionists appear. There are found to be statutes in force which prohibit the advertising of these practitioners. It is believed steps will be taken at once to have them rigidly enforced.

ORDERED DISMISSED.

In the course of a trial at the General Sessions yesterday, it transpired that certain officials about the courts had been guilty of holding conversations with prisoners and witnesses, by means of which they afterwards sought to prevent the course of justice, whereupon the presiding judge said he would demand their names forthwith and take steps to have the officers peremptorily dismissed.

The corporation counsel will reply to-morrow before Judge Barnard to the application for perpetual injunction against the city officials, Mayor Hall having decided to take no part in the case.

COMPLAINT DISMISSED.

The Police Commissioners yesterday unanimously dismissed John Foley's complaint against Police Sergeant Hicks, for his refusal to arrest the disturbers at the recent municipal reform meeting in Harlem.

The Times this morning says the recent heavy fall in Hannibal and St. Joseph railroad stock is due to the troubles in the City Hall ring, which holds a large amount.

ST. LOUIS.

Foudry and Iron Works Burned.

ST. LOUIS, September 9.—About twelve o'clock last night a fire broke out in Nixon & Co.'s foundry and iron works, 715 Park avenue, some two-thirds of which, together with many valuable patterns, was destroyed. The loss will probably reach fifteen thousand dollars. The fire extended to a large malt house belonging to C. Happe & Co., and ruined all the rear portion of it, together with a large quantity of grain. The loss on the stock and building will probably reach forty thousand dollars. Insured for five thousand each in the Washington, Mutual and Franklin of St. Louis. Some small dwellings adjacent were slightly damaged.

SUIT FILED.

The Rogers Locomotive works, of Paterson, N. J., filed a suit in the Circuit Court to day against the North Missouri Railway Company for $100,000, claimed by them for locomotives furnished the company.

TERRIBLE RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

ST. LOUIS, September 10.—A terrible accident occurred between nine and ten o'clock this morning at the crossing of the St. Louis and Vandalia railway and the Collinsville plank road, two miles and a half from East St. Louis. A party of pic-nickers, composed of sixteen grown persons and several children, left St. Louis this forenoon in a large furniture wagon, to spend the day in Illinois. When crossing the railroad track at the point named, they were struck by an excursion train going to Highland. Three persons were killed outright, two mortally and five severely wounded. The names of the killed are C. Sanders, J. Brennan, Thos. Mehan; mortally wounded, Mrs. Flood, Emma Kenner; severely, Robert Flood, E. Flood, Cora Elmore, Mary Flood, and a man, name unknown. Several others were slightly injured. In fact only three of the party escaped. At the point where the accident occurred there is a clear view of the railroad for a mile to the west and some miles to the east, but it appears that none of the party heard or saw the approaching train, although the engineer blew the whistle. The horses were first to discover the danger. In stepping from the track they became frightened. One of them sprang forward; the other hung back and brought the wagon to a dead halt. Just at this moment they were struck. One horse was torn nearly to pieces and the wagon broken to splinters. The train was stopped and all possible assistance rendered to the wounded. Vehicles were procured and dead and injured brought to the city and conveyed to their homes or taken to hospitals. No blame is attached to the railroad employes, as every thing was done that could be to avert the disaster.

HUDSON.

Church Troubles.

HUDSON, September 9.—It having been reported that Bishop Conroy had directed Father O'Sullivan to resume the pastoral of St. Mary's Church in this city, a vigilance committee, organized some time ago by persons designated as "rebels," held a meeting last evening and unanimously resolved to resist his admission to the church at all hazards. They assert that Bishop Conroy's threat of excommunication will have no influence whatever upon their action, and declare that it is no part of the duty of a good Catholic to submit to the ministrations of a bad man.

HUDSON, N. Y., September 10.—The meeting of the members of St. Mary's Parish, at St. Mary's Hall, last evening, was largely attended, and the action of the Vigilance Committee on Friday in resolving to resist to the last extremity the reinstatement of Father O'Sullivan over the church, was unanimously endorsed. A strong guard was placed around the church last night and this morning. Contrary to expectation, Father O'Sullivan did not make his appearance, and no service was held today. A considerable crowd gathered around the church this forenoon, but perfect order prevailed. It was ascertained early in the day that Father O'Sullivan telegraphed from Chatham last evening to a friend in this city that he would not be here, and the crowd gradually dispersed. The rebels are firm and united in their determination to prevent O'Sullivan or any of his adherents from entering the church at all hazards, and say that they are prepared for any emergency.

KANSAS.

Important Letter.

TOPEKA, September 8.—A number of eastern papers have been publishing a statement about Kansas, which has called forth the following letter from Governor Hawey:

Topeka, September 9, 1871.—To Alfred Gray, Secretary of the State Agricultural Society—Sir: It having been extensively published in eastern papers that no good land can be purchased in Kansas at fifty dollars per acre, I take this occasion to state the facts within my knowlede, believing that justice to the State and to those seeking homes here requires that information be published as widely as possible. There are millions of acres of good land in Kansas, to be had under the provision of the pre-emption and homestead laws, and the Osage trust lands are sold to actual settlers at one dollar and twenty five cents per acre. In portions of the State which have been longer settled, good unimproved land can be purchased by any one for prices ranging from five dollars to thirty dollars per acre. Of course, near large towns prices range higher.

[Signed] JAS. M. HAWEY.

FAST HORSES.

Several fast horses from St. Louis and Chicago, and the celebrated stallion Rhode Island, belonging to Senator Sprague, are here to attend the State fair.

CHICAGO.

Injunction Issued.

CHICAGO, September 9.—A special from South Bend, Ind., says the Kankakee Valley Draining Company yesterday received a set-back from the Circuit Court of St. Joseph county, from which it will be difficult to recover. This was upon an injunction issued by the court over a year ago, restraining the company from acting in that county. In the face of this injunction the company filed its assessment record on August 11th, and its deed of trust for about forty thousand acres of Kankakee lands, in that county, which brought the company in contempt. The Circuit Judge, Hon. Thomas S. Senfield, having been interested and previously employed in the case, appointed a special term, and Hon. John Pettit, of Lafayette, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court, presided in his place. The case of Esmay came up on the contempt, and an attachment was ordered, which was served only on L. A. Cole, attorney for the company, and E. G. McCallum, its Secretary, who were ordered to purge themselves of contempt, which they waived to do, and the Court ordered that the schedule of assessments of the benefits and damages filed for record by the Kankakee Draining Company by and through its officers and agent, in the Recorder's office of St. Joseph county, upon the first day of August, 1871, and by the said Recorder recorded, be, and is hereby, in the consideration and judgment of this Court, held for naught, void, and of no effect as to and affecting lands in St. Joseph county, Indiana. And it is further considered and adjudged that the mortgage caused to be filed for record in the Recorder's office on the 14th day of August, 1871, and recorded by the Recorder of said county, be and is hereby held for naught, void and of no effect, and that the same is not a lien or incumbrance upon said lands; so that by the schedule aforesaid assessed, Cole & McCallum were ordered to pay the costs of the attachment, and an alias attachment was ordered for Wm. D. Hannah, late President of the company, and J. G. Glidden, its Vice President, returnable to the next term of the Circuit Court, fixing their bail to be accepted by the Sheriff, and the injunction was ordered to be continued in full force until further orders of the Court. This order cuts off an assessment of over $360,000.

THE MARSH MURDER AND SUICIDE.

The Lawrence (Kansas) Journal, of the 6th, contains the particulars of the killing of his wife and child by Dr. E. E. Marsh, followed by his own self-destruction. Dr. Marsh lived about six miles from Lawrence, on the Engora road, and was a dentist by profession. It appears from the statements of several members of his family, that about five o'clock in the morning, Mary Watkins, hearing some unusual sound in the Doctor's room, went and found him lying on the floor with his head over a pan, bleeding very profusely from a wound in the neck. On the bed lay Mrs. Marsh, also bleeding profusely, and near her their little daughter was completely covered with blood, and before medical aid could be obtained all three were dead. The deed was done with a razor. Dr. Marsh had been partially insane for some time, caused by the death of his father. He had always been an exceedingly kind and affectionate husband and father, and was much loved by them. Dr. Marsh was thirty-four years of age, his wife thirty-seven, and his little daughter eight.

EPISCOPAL VISITATION.

CHICAGO, September 10.—The announcement which has been previously well advertised throughout the country that Bishop Whitehouse would make his annual Episcopal Visitation to the recusant Christ church, in this city, drew together an immense audience, which filled every seat and every inch of standing room in that large edifice. The hour for the commencement of the services was 10:30. At ten o'clock the Bishop, in company with one of his sons in his carriage, reached the church. He soon presented himself at the door of the vestry room, when he was met by Mr. Cheney and the wardens of the church. Exactly what occurred at this meeting has not been made public. Rumor says Mr. Cheney cordially extended his hand, with words of welcome to the Bishop, who declined to take his hand, or respond to the greeting. The interview lasted but a few minutes, when the Bishop returned. It is understood the candidates for confirmation have unanimously declined to be presented to the Bishop by any other person than Mr. Cheney, their rector. At the hour for opening the services, Geo. W. Thompson, a well known lawyer of this city, and member of Mr. Cheney's church and his firm friend, came into the church. The former gentleman read the morning services except such parts as are required to be read by a priest, and Mr. Cheney preached an earnest and eloquent sermon from a text taken from the ninth chapter of St. John: "I must work the work of Him that sent me while it is day; the night cometh in which no man can work." In his sermon he made no reference whatever to the difficulties between himself and his Bishop. Bishop Lee, of Iowa, desires the Davenport Gazette to state that some articles in the Chicago papers have given an erroneous impression of his views and opinions in regard to the Cheney case. The Bishop knew Mr. Cheney when a boy, and when he became aware of his impending troubles in regard to the baptismal service, did all he could to persuade Mr. Cheney to use the service as appointed, and since his trials and sentences he has been of the opinion that Mr. Cheney should have submitted, however unjust he might have deemed them to be, and not set up his individual judgment against that of the constituted authorities. At the special request of Bishop Whipple, Bishop Lee accompanied him to Chicago, before the sentence of deposition was pronounced, for the purpose of endeavoring to effect a settlement of the matter, without regard to extreme penalties, or at least procure a delay of sentence until after the approaching general convention, when the church at large would have an opportunity to give its views upon the subject. The two Bishops failed to see Bishop Whitehouse, who was absent, but they had an interview with Mr. Cheney, whom they found fixed in his determination, though exceedingly anxious to retain his connection with the church and its ministers. They still, however, were convinced of the great importance of a delay of the final sentence, believing that its infliction under existing circumstances would ferment unpleasant excitement and increase the danger of division and separation in the church. They both addressed letters to Bishop Whitehouse, the chief object of which were to suggest a delay of sentence. They had no idea of unduly interfering with the affairs of another man's diocese, but were moved simply by a desire to act as peacemakers and promote the general unity of the church.

WHEELING.

Soldiers' Reunion.

WHEELING, September 10.—Yesterday at a large and enthusiastic meeting of the committee having in charge the arrangements for the Soldiers' Reunion, to be held in this city October 19th and 20th, Colonel Thayer Melvin and Captain R. H. Cochran were appointed to deliver addresses of welcome to the soldiers on behalf of the society of the army of West Virginia, and Mayor Jefferson on behalf of the city. It is expected that not less than twenty thousand soldiers from Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia, will be present. Letters have been received from many celebrated Generals who served in West Virginia, promising to be present. Generals McClellan, Banks and Cox are certain to be here, and others are expected.

AT EDINBURGH, Scotland, on the 2d of August "The British Association for the Advancement of Science" began its forty-first annual meeting. During a conversation about the physical deterioration of the English race, Mr. Sewell pointed out, "That the cause of this alarming fact in the North of England has been traced to the immediate use of tea. If any change in the physique had come about, it was to a great extent owing to a change in the national beverages. He wished all his friends drank good, pure ale, or if they did not like that, good, pure milk, but he was afraid it would be a long time before they got these things in sufficient abundance and purity—[laughter]—to keep them all in good health."

On this side of the water we are not in danger of falling into a corresponding evil. Pier, Dannals & Co. are very patriotic, and will work night and day to ward such a calamity from the American people. They now sell Cream and Sugar ale in casks and bottles.

CONTROLLER—R. J. McGOWAN.

THE STATE ELECTIONS are held to-day in Maine. Look out for the reverberations of the thunder peal heard last week in California. Maine always stands by the flag; but the glory of leading the hosts of Republicanism to victory this fall belongs to the "Golden State." "Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching."

THE World is dumb on the California election. A few days ago it promised its readers a victory, and is now disgusted with the party.

IT is announced that King Amadeus of Spain is about instituting the right of trial by jury into his dominions, and other evidences of progress and civilization.

WILMINGTON, Delaware, has just elected the Republican candidate for President of the city council, a majority of the members, and a city Treasurer. Last year the council was Democratic.

THE Chicago Tribune says "the Democratic party should meet in National Convention and declare itself defunct." We think so too, after its latest efforts in North Carolina and California.

THE World calls the committee of seventy citizens, appointed at the great tax-payers meeting in New York, "the fussy and foolish committee." This is worse than whistling to keep the courage up.

CIVIL SUITS against the members of the Tammany Ring are hinted at, to recover the millions stolen from the people. Why should they not be made to disgorge their treasures, dishonestly acquired out of the taxes of the people? We hope such an example will be made.

THE PUBLIC will be glad to learn that the cholera is abating in Northern and Eastern Europe, and has almost wholly disappeared in the West. We need not now fear a visit from this dreaded pestilence, this year, but we should be prepared for it, nevertheless, at all times.

2:17 the fastest time ever made. The celebrated mare "Goldsmith Maid" trotted a mile in this time, on the Cold Spring race course at Milwaukee. Dexter's best trot was a mile in 2:17¼. The sporting world is all agog over the great fact. Bonner will now doubtless buy the new celebrity and pay $50,000 for her.

THE Monongahela Republican, the devotion of which to the cause of temperance cannot be denied, in an able article denounces as unwise the nomination of a State ticket on the bare platform of prohibition. Will the few demagogues engineering the movement not heed the advice of the true and consistent friends of temperance?

A CONVENTION of iron manufacturers has been holding a session in Philadelphia for the purpose of co-operation. James I. Bennett, of this city, was chosen President. We notice Messrs. C. B. Herron, J. C. Lewis, C. H. Zug, and J. L. Kendy, of this place, were present as delegates. Over $100,000,000 of capital were represented. A constitution and by-laws were adopted.

THE wealth of the Pacific coast in gold and silver is hard to estimate, as each year the product increases. It produces $80,000,000 in gold and silver annually. During the last twenty years $1,200,000,000 worth of the precious metals has been mined there. It would add interest to these statistics if it could be known the amount of cash capital that has been expended in mining operations and speculations on that coast during the past twenty years.

GIVE us woman suffrage women for ridiculous ideas. The appointment of a select committee to wait upon the Mayor in order to induce him to employ carriages to carry male and female "drunks, disorderlies and vagrants" to the toombs, and from thence to the work house or jail, was a very funny proceeding on the part of the W. S. A., on Friday evening. Only women could suggest such an idea, but we are inclined to think that it is impracticable in the highest degree.

CORNELIUS WALSH has been unanimously nominated by the Republicans of New Jersey for Governor. During the war he was a prominent Union man, and acted as President of the Sanitary Commission of the State. The proceedings of the Convention were marked by the greatest harmony and enthusiasm. The platform adopted has the ring of the genuine metal, and our New Jersey friends promise to carry the State by ten thousand majority.

ALARMED at the evident purpose of the government to put a stop to the Ku-Klux outrages through the South, and thus secure the lives and property of the people, against outrage, while at the same time the ballot box will be protected, the Southern leaders are uniting in addresses to the President, intimating that the Ku-Klux have disappeared. Probably they have, for the present, but unless the Government interferes to prevent them, they will most assuredly come again, about election times, in order to use their old tacti of intimidating the freedmen and Union men, and thus carry things their own way.

SO LONG as the proud American flag floats the name of Oliver Hazard Perry will live in the grateful memory of those who revere it. Yesterday was the fifty-eighth anniversary of the crowning triumph of the Commodore's life—the defeat of the British squadron on Lake Erie, thus forever establishing the American navy in high place among the naval forces of the world. The brilliant deeds of brave men in the late war have caused a partial forgetfulness of the earlier heroes in our history, but the conspicuous part of the gallant Perry, played in the war of 1812, can never be forgotten, and with each returning year his name will be recalled to memory as the story of his triumph is told, and a grateful, patriotic people will thank God that such a hero lived when heroes were in need.

THE REPUBLICAN VICTORY in California is even better than we had dared to hope. In addition to the Governor, by a majority from six to ten thousand, we have elected all three of the Congressmen, (two certainly, and one probably,) two thirds of the Legislature, thus securing a Republican United States Senator to succeed Hon. Columbus Cole; the entire board of municipal officers in San Francisco; besides the Supreme and District Judges, county officers etc. A more complete revolution in politics was never witnessed before. The issues of the canvass turned on the profession of principles made by the two parties, with a review of the past histories of both. Democracy divided, demoralized and corrupt, was terribly defeated and condemned; Republicanism united, pure and peaceful was grandly triumphant. All hail California, we welcome you back into the ranks of the great national party of progress and reform.

IT is intimated that the report of the Ku-Klux Investigation Committee will exhibit a state of affairs throughout the South, which will well-nigh freeze the blood in one's veins. Tales of horror, wherein whole families have been terribly outraged, robbed, and left for dead by the desperadoes, fill the volume. All through the South, the life of a freedman or a Republican, white or black, was not safe for a moment. No respect was paid to age or sex, and develish work was everywhere perpetrated on any one suspected of having Republican sentiments. This is Southern Democracy, and those are the persons whom they call the chivalry of the South. Well may the terror-stricken freedmen wish themselves again slaves, when at least their lives would be considered worth protection. These are the white demons who continually cry out against "Radical usurpations," "registry laws," and the "use of the military," to secure orderly and fair elections. We hope the strong arm of the Government will be stretched forth, to the end that all may be protected from violence and outrage, and that the guilty and wicked may be restrained.

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLARS are to celebrate the triennial conclave of the Grand Encampment of the United States, in Baltimore, this year, commencing on the 19th day of the present month of September. The brethren in Baltimore have been making extensive preparations for appropriately receiving their visitors, and have made out a programme of arrangements. On the 19th the Commanderies of Maryland will report in full dress uniform at the Masonic Temple, from thence to march to Barnum's Hotel, the headquarters of the Grand Master, for the purpose of escorting the Grand Officers to their Asylum, and the visiting Commanderies are invited to join the escort. On the 20th, numerous steamboats will be provided to take visitors on short excursions about the bay, and carriages to take them around the city; while in the evening a grand ball will be given at the Masonic Temple. On the 21st will take place the grand parade, review and inspection, with musical entertainments in the evening. On the 22d the Commanderies of the District of Columbia have invited the Grand Encampment and visiting Commanderies to visit Washington, parade, visit the President and the Governor of the District, and partake of a collation at the Masonic Temple. A delegation from Pittsburgh and Allegheny Commanderies will be in attendance.

THE San Francisco Bulletin (Independent) after summing up the result says:

"The Democrats of California have met their 'Sedan,' and their utter discomfiture will have an important bearing upon the Eastern fall elections. Fifteen hundred colored men voted for the party that enfranchised them."

The Examiner (Democrat) makes the following mournful wail:

"The election of yesterday is the talk of to-day. It seems to be generally conceded that the Radicals have gotten away with us. We are sorry for it, and we are an ill-used community."

We have the following from California:

Great satisfaction is manifested here at the result of the recent election, which is considered on all sides to be a glorious Republican triumph. The Republicans are jubilant over their well-earned success, while the Democrats are silent and despondent.

The efforts making to prove that the defeat was caused by divisions in the Democratic party, will not be accepted. A most signal rebuke has been administered, which will tell with good effect in October and November.

THE CALIFORNIA VICTORY.

United States Marshal Morris telegraphs to the President from San Francisco as follows:

"We have elected our Governor and the whole State ticket, two Congressmen sure, and probably the third. Present advices indicate that we shall have the Legislature by a decided majority."

Senator Cole sends the following telegram:

"California has fully righted up, and is in line for next year with all sails set."

Supervisor Foulke sends the following to Col. Douglass:

"The Republican majority is probably five thousand. We have secured the Legislature and three Congressmen."

THE ELECTION IN CALIFORNIA has proved a staggering blow to the hopes of the defiant, but truckling Democracy. It has proved to them that deceit and double-dealing will not serve the voters of California, at least. The New Departure of the faithful from the old haunts, has proved the last straw which broke the party's back. After the war large numbers of the ex-rebels, finding their occupations gone at home, emigrated westward, many of them settling in California. For a time, things were quite rosy for Democracy, in that State, but through the infliction of righteous sentences by the courts, in many cases, and the threats of the Vigilance Committee in others, the party gradually grew smaller and smaller, until in 1868 General Grant carried the State by 500 majority. In 1869 the divisions in the Republican party gave the State to Democracy, and it was counted certain for that party at this election. Those of the party who still clung to its rotten hulk, were "dyed in the wool" Democrats, and would not endorse the New Departure and the amendments, admitting colored rights and suffrage. They could not see the policy of abandoning all they had been toiling for, and fighting for, during the last ten years. But they were left in a hopeless minority; all that were once honest and virtuous in the party voted the Republican ticket, heartily disgusted with the duplicity of the demagogues who are mismanaging the old party of Benton and Calhoun. "California has been lost to the Democracy," our neighbor on Wood street cries out, but cheers its pensive spirit with the reflection that it is only a "temporary blow," which has overturned the frail craft. "Temporary blows" of this nature are quite hard to bear we imagine. That one in North Carolina which defeated the Democratic hopes by 15,000 majority; the one recently in Kentucky, whereby the old majority was reduced some 40,000; and the prairie blows recently felt which completely changed the political complexion of the delegations from several of the territories, are but the skirmishes on the picket line, which foreshadow the coming battle, and the victory for the right. The people despise duplicity, a profession of certain principles in one section, and the opposite of them in another, or what is just as bad, one portion of a party claiming to believe one way, and another portion claiming the opposite, both striving to obtain power. Such is Democracy to-day. Ask a Democrat if he is for the "New Departure," and he will answer "I don't know;" ask him if he knows what the "New Departure" is, and he will most likely reply "no." Ask him if he is in favor of the constitution as it stands, he will evade the question, but ask him if he is in favor of colored suffrage and civil rights to all, and he will snap out a quick "no." Northern Democracy claims to approve the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments, but it is "opposed to their contents" and would annul them if possible. Southern Democracy spurns and spits upon these amendments, and wails for the "lost cause." Western Democracy fiercely battles against the tariff, and our own Democratic friends in Pennsylvania claim the party for protection. Is it any wonder that California or any State, refuses to be governed by such professors? Is it any wonder that such a party fails to command the respect of the people? Is it not a "nine days' wonder" that any intelligent man, can act with such an organization, with such diverse professions, and with no aim but the spoils of office?

THERMOMETERS BY THE MILE.

The Temperance of the Court House—J. O'Brien's Little Bill for $7,500—Clear Profit $7,342.

[From the N. Y. Times.]

One of the peculiar features of the Tammany frauds is the utter contempt for appearances which marks every one of them. Like those Oriental vails which cover the faces of the Zenana beauties without concealing them, the pretexts for various robberies are of the thinnest quality. This is specially the case in the thermometer business, to which the Times drew attention in Monday's issue. The item in the county accounts furnished by the Ring reads:

1870. May 28, Paid J. O'Brien for thermometers for county buildings and offices.......................... $7,500

When it is considered that the ordinary price of a thermometer is $2, and at that rate 3,750 could be purchased for the sum mentioned. It will be conceded that under this head the language of Oakey Hall stigmatizing the action as "perhaps exhorbitant," is not too strong. Even the most inveterate friend of Tammany must admit that $7,500 is rather a large sum for thermometers. The reporter of the Times, being sent to investigate the matter, found about eleven thermometers of a large size around the court house. They were essentially cheap, though showily framed. They were five feet in length and one foot in breadth, with cases of black walnut, carved at top and bottom. The tube was of the spirit kind, with a plain bulb at the bottom. The face was very common, being of paper highly varnished and tastely painted. The thermometer in short was a cheap one with an expensive frame. These were in the public offices. They were marked M. A. Finnell.

In the private rooms were smaller ones of a very superior make, marked G. Tagliabue. These were also fitted with spirit tubes, framed in box wood about a foot in length and two inches broad. As there were many private rooms to which the reporters could not get access, he went straight to the store of Guiseppe Tagliabue, at No. 302 Pearl street. As soon as he had explained his mission Mr. Tagliabue burst out with a slight foreign accent, "Ah, ha, I wanted to see you about this. I was coming to the Times office. Look here, it is here in this paper," and as he said this he threw on the counter with considerable indignation a copy of Monday's Times. He continued: "When I saw that my hairs stood straight on my head. It is two years ago and more, perhaps, since I furnished Mr. O'Brien with two dozen small thermometers at $2 apiece—$48 all told. And for this he charges the City $7,500. It is infamous. Positively when I read that I felt as if I was going crazy."

The reporter asked who furnished the long ones. Mr. Tagliabue replied that they came from a Dr. Finnell, who had been deputy coroner some twelve years ago, and who had gone into the thermometer business, among other occupations, and he believed had failed. They were poor, cheap affairs, faced with paper. From other members of the trade, Mr. Busch, and Messrs. Colombo & Tagliabue, the reporter gleaned the fact that $10 would be a very handsome price for the Finnell thermometers. When Mr. Busch was asked what he could do in this line for $7,500, he burst into a roar of hearty laughter, and holding his sides, gasped out: "For $7,500 I line the Court-house." A little calculation will show that even at $10 a piece a building 190 feet square covered with thermometers, or the thermometers would cover an area of 750 feet, or if placed on end would reach a distance of seven and three-fifth miles.

Mr. J. O'Brien, the gentleman who engineered this astounding job, paid then:

To Mr. Tagliabue, for 24 thermometers.............................. $48
To Dr. Finnell, for 11 thermometers. 110

Total...$158

He received from Tammany:
1869. J. O'Brien, thermometers for county building and offices......$7,500
Deduct... 158

Clear profit, alias dead robbery..$7,342

POLITICAL.

THE latest returns from the election in Wyoming territory give the Republicans a majority of two in the Senate and the Democrats a majority of two in the House.

EX-GOV. LOWE of Maryland, who, on the breaking out of the late war, threatened to disinter the bodies of his deceased children and remove them from the polluted soil if Maryland remained true to the Union, has lately announced that he "is in favor of the Constitution and amendments, just as they are, until the people through their constitutional agents see fit to change them."

THE Chicago Post prints a list of the nominees for the next Legislature in Iowa, and attempts to determine from them the chances of the several candidates for the seat of Senator Harlan, whose term of office expires with the present Congress. The editor admits that these calculations are very unsatisfactory, but concludes that Messrs. Harlan and Allison will have about equal strength in the new Legislature, and the result will be the election of some popular third man—probably Mr. Wilson. There are so few Democrats in many of the districts of Iowa that they have made no nominations.

THE Cincinnati Commoner, a Democratic journal which "accepts nothing," says: We have hitherto refrained from saying anything of our candidates. The respective parties might exchange with each other and be equally well suited. There's no spirit in the campaign; our politicians are only going through the motions. The State Central Committees embody the solid stupidity of each party respectively, are the generals; they are neither geniuses themselves, nor have they a corps de genie as the French would call it. The candidates are mere automatons—what they say they do not believe, and what they do believe they do not say. Their physical endurance would, if measured by a thermometer, amount to fever heat; their mental performance may properly be expressed by zero. Our mutual friend McCook has succumbed. The insanity of speaking day after day for a hundred days had its effect upon his mind.

Alive with a Broken Neck.

There may be probability in parallels for this astounding story, but few are on record. James T. Anderson, of Glenwood, Iowa, in a sportive mood practicing gymnastic exercise, fell from the bars, while suspended by his feet, and striking on the back of his neck, was instantly struck as with paralysis save in the head, where a perfect consciousness remained. He was bewildered by the sudden pain and loss of the use of the rest of his body, but bore up dauntlessly. He experienced an inexpressable tingling, though his body seemed to him a mass of jelly; when touched it felt as though broken into fragments. The actual situation, discovered by diagnosis, was a broken neck, and to the amazement of everybody the man not only did not die, but is living and promises to live with a dead body attached to his living head. Still further, he accepts the situation unmurmuringly, and has begun to learn to write with his lips, and indeed has attained some proficiency in that singular method, and writing to a friend facetiously says that he "now writes with a tolerably good mouth." He has been sadly troubled by flies, against which he is totally unprotected; this, however, he is now in a fair way of remedying by keeping a leaf in his mouth and continually twirling.

MRS. MYRA CLARK GAINES, having put up her claim of $125,000 against New Orleans at auction, it was knocked down at $39,000. Are we to understand from this that the Crescent City pays less than 33⅓ cents on the dollar of its obligations.

A Checkered Career.

[From the Dubuque (Iowa) Herald.]

Endre Tegate was born in Hungary of noble parents, who gave him the benefit of a good education. He took part in the Hungarian revolution of 1848. He was captured by Austrians and sentenced to be shot. He made his escape, however, and found safety for some months in a convent. Leaving the convent he went to Trieste, Italy, then to Algeria. Here he lost all his money at a gambling table, and was compelled to enter the French foreign league, in which he fought the Cabyles for two years, but was finally taken prisoner and sold into slavery. Here he found his star of destiny in a beautiful girl, servant of the daughter of the chief, who conceived a strong passion for the handsome Hungarian, redeemed and married him. Through the influence of his young wife he became a convert to Islamism, and obtained a good position in the State. His beautiful wife died only four months from her marriage. Endre then resolved to return to Europe. His journeyings through the desert were full of hardships and dangers. He finally secured a camel by theft, and reached a city on the Mediterranean, having been thirty five days in the desert. Here he took passage on an American vessel for Messina, in Sicily. From this place he wrote to his mother for money, but received a reply from his friends that his mother was dead and the estate bankrupt. He then joined the army in Naples. After two years service he was sentenced to four years works in the galleys for insubordination. He fringed sickness, got into the hospital, and soon effected his escape but fell into the hands of the brigands. He was penniless though and they let him go. He then went to Genoa, where he was recognized by a Neapolitan recruiting officer, by whom he was placed in irons, and was to have been sent back to the galleys, but the captain of the ship took pity on him and loosened the irons when the ship was off against the Roman territory, and Endre leaped overboard, and by swimming reached the shore in safety. Here he immediately fell into the hands of the French patrol, and was cast into prison, and was soon reclaimed by the government at Naples, but in order to gain time to mature plans, he pretended he was a French deserter and was therefore not given up, and in six months he was engaged in the siege of Sebastopol. He afterwards took part in the action at Magents in the French-Italian war, and four years later we find Endre in the Federal army of the North, "fighting for the Union." He survived the hardships of the "American conflict," and after roaming around the country for a time, finally settled down on the banks of the Wapsipinicon. He made the aquaintance of a farmer's daughter, 18 years of age, home in Fremont. Aquaintance soon became friendship, and friendship soon ripened into love. The lady favored his suit at first, but for reasons unexplained, has grown weary of his attentions. The neglect, it seems, was greater than he could bear. Him who had passed through so many strange and trying adventures, the one defeat in pursuit of love's idol. vanquished. He determined, it seems, on last Saturday, to "know the worst, and had provided for it." He went to the druggist, purchased three bottles of Perry Davis' painkiller, put them in his pocket, loaded his gun with a heavy charge of powder, and then proceeded the next day, Sunday, while the old folks were at church, to the house of his heart's idol. He presented himself before the young lady, took out the three bottles of pain-killer, and poured the contents of each into the muzzle of his gun. He then placed the stock on the floor and the muzzle in his mouth. Then after a moment of dreamy abstraction, he raised his lips so that he could speak, and asked her for the last time, as he said, "if she would marry him." She replied firmly, "No!" Crack went the rifle, and wall and ceiling all around was splattered with the brains and warm blood of the Hungarian. A part of one jaw had been sent deep into the side of the door and poor Endre was a bleeding corpse upon the floor. The shock upon the poor lady, who had been the only eye-witness of this shocking tragedy, was so great that she swooned and fell also beside the dead body of Endre. And there she was found by persons who were attracted to the house by the report of the last shot of Endre. Love triumphed. Perry Davis's pain-killer has stood its severest test. The body of Endre was interred on the 8th. Alas! poor Endre!

The First Photographer.

It has generally been taken for granted that the discovery of photography dates back only to the year 1839, when Daguerre in France, and Talbot in England published the results of their investigations. It appears probable, however, that the art was discovered and practically applied by Matthew Boulton, partner of the celebrated James Watt, as long ago as the close of the last century, and was then allowed to fall into neglect, and to be forgotten. Boulton belonged to a secret scientific society, which was accustomed to meet at his house. He died in 1806, and, on the subsequent examination and removal of the vast collection of documents stored in his library, there was found a number of crumpled and folded sheets of paper with pictures of the most puzzling kind. On smoothing out these pictures, they were found to consist of copies, on large sheets of very coarse paper, of certain well-known designs by Kauffman—the porous water-marked paper being thickly coated with some varnish-like substance, on the surface of which the picture had been produced. All the sheets found in the library, as well as others, afterward discovered, presented the same characteristic—a glossy surface, with minute varnished cracks, the drawing of the figures most elaborately finished, the lights and shades so fully rendered as to give much the effect of a mezzotint, and an invariable reversal of the position of the figures. Further research also led to the discovery of two silver metal plates, about the size of a sheet of note paper, precisely resembling in appearance those used by Daguerre in the early days of photography. On each of these plates was a faint image of Boulton's house, so unmistakably taken from nature, and so evidently produced by the aid of light, that experts at once pronounced them to be photograph pictures taken directly by means of a camera. Attached to these plates was a memorandum stating that they were "sun pictures," representing the house prior to certain alterations in 1791. All these facts lead to the inevitable conclusion that the discoveries of Daguerre were anticipated by Boulton. Watt, as is well known, was the true father of the steam engine which in his hands first became a machine of real practical value; and it is a curious fact that a discovery of almost equal importance, in a wholly different field of scientific research should have been made by the man associated with him as a partner in business.

Private Practice.

An English journal and an American magazine have lately been calling attention to the fact—passably patent already—that people generally use a great deal more medicine than is good for them. It may well be questioned whether the practice of country folk, which once led them to keep on hand a good supply of "simples," of catnip, pennyroyal, sage, and all the category of "roots and yarbs," has been well replaced by the introduction first of sulphur, cream of tartar, and treacle, and followed by an endless host of patent medicines, to be used on the slightest provocation. In this regard the science of the shrewd is too often the death of the simple, and perhaps much of the physical degeneration noticeable in rural districts is due to the incessant taking of nauseous drugs every time the wind or moon changes, or an old lady consults her meteorological corn and learns that a storm is brewing. The prevalence of the notion that drugs contain healing virtues shows how hard it is to get rid of a superstition—a "healing virtue" being manifestly an evasive expression for a magical quality; yet now even physicians occasionally use the term as if it were not—as so many words are—a fossil superstition; with the learned it has only a meaning, but with the unlearned it has a force. Blue mass will, they think, cure "biliousness," as it is prepared for that very purpose. If blue-mass has no effect, it may be well to try podaphyllin or castor oil, and perhaps, if the case is desperate or obstinate, it may be well to take them all together. An English physician was lately called in to see a sick child, and found that its mother had received medicine from three different dispensaries and nearly killed her child in her desperate efforts to save it by giving it some of all the medicines. It is requisite to do away with the notion that the exhibition of any drug will necessarily or even probably cure any disorder, and to let the human system do all it can to re-establish perfect health. Doctors generally are trying to do this, and much to their disgust are often forced to administer "bread-pills," and another like powerful remedial agents, because patients are so fully persuaded that nobody as sick as they, can ever possibly get well without medicine. It would save people a great deal of money and pain if they would be sensible for themselves and not hire other people to be sensible for them.

VIOLETS IN AUTUMN.

I knew I should find the Daisy,
With her forehead so brave and white,
For the sun is her lover, to comfort her,
And to keep her in beauty bright;
And she folds the last of his kisses
In the golden well of her cup,
Then fearless sleeps in the frosty fields
Till the morning wakes her up.

And the purple pink o' the mountain
Droppeth her velvet train
Where the stricken glory of forest leaves
Is shed in a scarlet rain,
And nods to the late red Clover,
And the stoical Immortelle;
And the timid buds of the Dewberry
Hide down in the sunny dell.

And I gathered the golden Aster,
And blossom blades of grass,
Each bowing low like a courtier
To let his lady pass;
But the Violets!—oh, the Violets!
I thought they were all asleep,
Each on her pillow of thistledown
In the pine wood dark and deep.

But they stood in the hapless beauty
Under the sullen skies,
Each lamenting her mother, Spring,
With the sorrow of dewy eyes;
Five o' them April's darlings,
On a bank of yellow'd moss,
That long ago the South wind
Had forgotten to blow across.

And I took these meek, sweet orphans,
Fair set 'neath emerald eaves;
But all for the love of the secret dear
That was hidden among their leaves.
Five little heads blue-hooded,
Your message was all for me,
And ye were its sweet carriers,
For all that ye were so wee!

CURES FOR DEAFNESS.

Let any one examine into the causes of deafness and he will find that nine out of ten of every one of them could have been cured in the beginning; after that, of course, when many of the parts are impaired there is very little hope of cure. Not that it is impossible, for cases can be greatly ameliorated, and even cures performed after apparent structural injury, but it is more difficult and not much to be looked for; but whilst we say this, it ought to be an additional reason for attending to the earlier symptoms of aural diseases, the tingling sensations and dullness of hearing, the tidal sounds and the sounds like a teakettle, as well as the whizzing sounds, and that like grass hoppers, which are heard by many persons, are often only premonitory symptoms of approaching deafness. Every one of these can be cured as easily as any other disease.

Dr. Keyser, at his office for chronic diseases, No. 167 Liberty street, has perfected some remarkable cures by that attention and skill by which he treats every chronic disease. Office hours from 10 A. M. until 1 P. M., and from 3 to 6 P. M.

INFLUENCE OF TEMPERATURE ON HEALTH.

In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long since discovered that among this description of medicines Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique on its defense against the vicissitudes of temperature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases, chills and fever, and the bilious remittent seem to recede before it, and if ever it should come into universal use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months; and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact, that among all the preventives of malarious disease, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.

Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine article, as countless imitations of a pernicious character are abroad. See that the externals are all right, and remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bottles alone.

LOUISVILLE CEMENT.
The Best--The Cheapest.
The Cement has acquired the reputation as the first in the country in hydraulic strength and uniform reliability.
It is now in general use from the lakes to the Gulf, most of the public works in the West and South being constructed with it.
The mills at Louisville having been enlarged and improved, can supply any demand, and though the Cement has always, for 30 years brought higher prices than competing brands, it is from this time the determination of the manufacturers, in order to largely increase the sale and extend the use of their Cement, to furnish it in the principal markets at prices which make it the most available and economical for all classes of work.
The large capacity of this Cement for taking sand renders it much the cheapest that can be used for buildings of any kind.
At the reduced prices in Pittsburgh its cost is not much above common lime, which makes it unquestionably to the interest of owners and builders that the foundation of every good house should be laid in this Cement.
A large stock of fresh Cement has just been received by barges from Louisville, and is offered at greatly reduced prices by the following dealers:

DEAFNESS
Positively Cured.
Below Dr. Sprecher makes public only a few prominent and diverse cases of Deafness cured by him. All the columns of this valuable journal would not give space enough for even a brief mention of the cases of Diseased Ears cured by us during our stay in Pittsburgh.

Remarkable Cure of Deafness.
On the 25th day of March, 1871, there came to our office Mr. ROBERT KING, Collector of Water Taxes. He said he had suffered for many years from deprivation of the power of hearing, and had in the last year become so thoroughly deaf that he could not attend to his business All the various tests given in the office only proved that his case was certainly one of great severity. An examination of the ears, however, proved them to be in a condition to encourage us at least in the application of Electricity. The drums of the ears were in an apparently healthy condition, and from all the symptoms we decided that the case was one of Nervous Deafness.
After having Mr. King under treatment for a couple of weeks he was thoroughly restored, could hear the clock in the operating room and many other sounds which he could not hear on commencing the treatment. In short, he is now thoroughly cured, and has been for over three months. Any one skeptical upon these points can consult Mr. ROBERT KING, 248 Bedford avenue.
Next we would call attention to the following cure of Deafness:

LOOK AT THE SIGNATURE.
PITTSBURGH, PA., July 10, 1871.
I hereby affirm that in October, 1870, I called upon Dr. Sprecher with an exceedingly annoying case of Deafness, caused by a case of Chronic Otorrhea. Had previously been under the care of some of the most prominent medical men here and elsewhere, but to no avail. In a few weeks treatment Dr. Sprecher cured me entirely, all discharges from the ear having ceased and all deafness being removed. I hear as well now, almost ten months after the cure, as I ever remember to have heard. I think my case is certainly permanent, as there has been no retrogression whatever.
Most respectfully yours,
THOMAS CARNAHAN.
160 Fourth avenue.
N. B.—The above young man is a member of the Junior Class, Western University, and a son of Hon. Robert B. Carnahan, Esq., of our city.

Cure of Deafness of Long Standing.
From a feeling of gratitude to the healer, and of interest in suffering humanity, I hereby affirm that I have been cured of Deafness of over five years' standing. I had tried every known remedy as administered by the first and best physicians, but without avail. A short course of electrical treatment under Dr. Sprecher's supervision has fully restored me. I do most cheerfully recommend electricity as a curative agent.
JOHN CEANEY,
86 Webster avenue, Pittsburgh.
Electricity, by its touch and tone, not only cured the most hopeless case of Deafness, but has cured and is now curing in the hands of Dr. Sprecher some of the most unfortunate—so called—cases of Blindness.
Below, we present a single case, which is only a representative of a large number of such certificates in our possession.
All diseases of the eye are alike amenable to the curative influence of Electricity in skilfull hands.

Blindness of 12 Years Cured.
This is to certify that G. A. Sprecher, Electropathist, at 257 Penn street, has cured me of blindness of in all about twelve years' standing When I came to the doctor I was miserable in every respect; could eat scarcely anything, sleep but little, and worse than all, could not see. I am restored by the agency of electricity to the blessings of health, and have my sight perfectly. I thank God that I was directed to this healer.
MISS MARY McKOWN,
Moorehead Postoffice, Allegheny county, Pa.
We would invite all the skeptical to write to Miss McKown and be satisfied.
All the afflicted may call upon us, and if the case is curable we will undertake it, and if not, so we pride ourselves, and think our friends will bear us out in it, that we have the honor to refuse the case.

—The New York Bulletin says of the recent reduction of about 15 per cent. on Westward freight rates:

"This reduction was certainly unexpected, and the new tariffs were adopted without consultation, it having been found that the agents were shading the old tariff, based on 73 cents to Chicago. The present rates are the lowest at which freights have been carried for several years, and shippers would do well to take advantage of the opportunities now offered to forward goods to the West. The present rates, the results of ruinous competition, cannot long prevail, and, although it is impossible to say whether the "bottom figures" have been reached or not, it is probable that the next change will be the restoration of the regular summer tariff adopted by the roads next June. The roads will not long continue a competition so unprofitable, and will take advantage of the first opportunity that offers to readjust their tariffs on a paying basis. The tariffs of this summer and last, however, show the impossibility of preventing competition between rival railroad by means of conventions and agreements, and the public may rest assured that, while the through routes to the West remain under different management, high rates on through freights can never long be maintained:"

—A New York paper, of Friday, says:

"In the gold market rather more than an average business was done to-day, the price advancing to 113¾. The Treasury sold $2,000,000 on bids for over $10,000,000. The specie in the New York banks amounts to about $12,000,000 and the customs payments into the Treasury to about $700,000 per day. These two facts show how easy it is for a few large holders, acting in concert, to control the market, particularly as the Treasury sales are limited to $2,000,000 a week during the month. We shall not be surprised, if the Secretary persists in hoarding his gold, to see the price advance as there are a good many speculative sales outstanding, and as the merchants are largely "short." It is unfortunately in the power of a gold room clique, owing to the policy of the Treasury, to compel borrowers of gold, mercantile as well as others, to pay almost any rate each day for the use of coin."

NEW YORK, September 9, 1871.

Gold strong; opening at 113¾ and closing at 113¾@113¼. Cash gold very scarce; from one-sixteenth to seven sixteenths per day was paid for use. Clearances $73,000,000. Exports to-day, $258,000; for the week, $423,000. Governments strong and a fraction higher on '67s and '68s. Business small. Stocks excited and active. Rock Island and Northwestern have been very weak. There was a free selling movement after the bank statement became known and the whole list declined. At the close there was a slight rally in prices, but the market was weak. Wabash and Western Union were heavily pressed for sale. The Express says: The prominent bulls made no resistance to the downward course of prices, but, on the contrary, they rather encouraged the decline, for the purpose of making large "short interest," as a basis for a future rise in prices. The New York Central and Hudson Railroad Companies have declared a semi-annual dividend of four per cent. on both stock and certificates, payable on and after October 16. The transfer book will close September 16 and 17. The bank statement for the past week is unfavorable. The following shows the change:

Loans, increase	$4,159,700
Specie, decrease	1,626,750
Legal tenders, decrease	1,438,800
Deposits, decrease	695,700
Circulation, decrease	44,387

CARBON OIL—Is still quoted at 22½@23 cts for standard brands in a jobbing way.

BEESWAX—Quoted at 30@33c.

COUNTRY BACON—Continues very dull. Country Lard is still quoted at 8@8½.

CEMENT—Louisville, $2,50@3,00 per bbl. Rosendale, $4,00@4,50; Calcined Plaster, $4,25@4,50.

CORN MEAL—Is quoted, in small lots, at 80@85 cts per bushel.

DRIED FRUIT—The receipts at this point have been meagre as yet, and there is so little doing that it is difficult to give quotations. The New York Bulletin says: "There is at present a good demand for all descriptions of new dried fruit, and the prices of some have advanced. Apples are taken freely, on arrival, at higher figures, the old continue quiet but holders do not seem uneasy. Owing to the abundant peach crop, large quantities have been dried, and peeled peaches continue to arrive freely from Georgia and North Carolina with a few from Virginia, dealers take all good stock liberally at current prices, with a preference for the very best. The few lots of unpeeled that have come to hand, have been closed out, but at present there is some inquiry, at better prices. The high price of apples is likely to create a good demand throughout the season for unpeeled peaches. Pitted cherries continued scarce, and the few coming in command high prices. Other small fruits are also scarce and are in demand."

EGGS—The receipts continue meagre and with a comparatively light stock and an improved demand the market is steady and prices are fully maintained; quotations may be fairly given at 24@25, holders generally asking 25 for fresh.

FRUITS—Apples continue to arrive freely and as the stock is again increasing the market is weak and prices drooping; $2@2.50 per bbl for fair to good and $3 for prime. Plums are only in moderate supply but the inquiry is comparatively light and prices unchanged, $3.50@4 per bushel. Peaches, also in comparatively light supply and prices are a shade higher, $2@2.75 per box. Grapes continue very dull the market being largely overstocked and prices are barely maintained 3@5 cts per lb.

FLOUR—The market is steady but quiet and unchanged, demand mainly local, being restricted to supplying immediate wants. We continue to quote good spring extras at $6.50@6.75; choice Minnesota baker's flour, $6.90@7; and good to choice red winter wheat $6.50@6.75.

GRAIN—There is a steady milling demand for Wheat, and, with continued light receipts and a very limited supply, the market is strong, though prices are not quotably higher; $1.24@1.27 for red; $1.28@1.30 for amber and $1.33@1.35 for white. Oats continue firm, and holders generally seem resolved to insist on the advance noted in our last report, while the buyers are holding off, and, in consequence, we have but few sales to report; mixed may be quoted at 42@43, and prime white at 44@45. Corn is in better demand and firmer, though not quotably higher; mixed shelled, 62@63 and prime yellow, 64@65—we heard of 62 having been bid and refused for 5 cars of mixed. Rye is scarce and wanted, and prices are higher; we now quote at 78@80. There is no movement in Barley, and, consequently, no established quotations; brewers are still holding off in anticipation of lower prices.

GROCERIES—The coffee market continues strong and considerably excited, and a still further advance has been established; private advices report that Baltimore is buying up all that can be obtained in Philadelphia, also, that the stock in first hands has been reduced to something like 8,000 bags. Sugars, especially refineds, continue strong, and "A's" have still further advanced, and, even at the recent sharp advance, it is said that refiners are scarcely able to keep up with their orders. It is a noticeable feature that refined sugars have been more active all season than raws, which is owing mainly to the fact that the difference in price, until recently, has been very slight. Syrups, particularly for the finer grades, are very firm with a good trade, as jobbers generally have commenced to stock up for the fall and winter trade. Molasses, also firmer but quiet.

SUGARS—Refined—Standard Hards, 14; A, 13¾; B, 13½; Ex. C, 13; C. Yellow, 12¾. Porto Rico Sugars—Choice, 11¾; Prime, 11; Good, 10¾. Cuba Sugars, 10¼@11. Demarara, 12¼@12¾. Sugar House Sugars—Knight's Extra C, Yellow, 11¾; C. C. 11¾; other grades, 9@11. New Orleans Sugars—None in market.

COFFEE—Fancy Rio, 21; Prime, 20; Good, 19; Fair, 18@18½. Java, 25@28. Laguayra, 19@20. Mocha, 45. Roasted Coffee—J. S. Dilworth & Co.'s pure, 22. Lower grades, 21.

SYRUPS—Havemyer & Elder's, 70. White Honey, 70. Lovering's, 60. Durant's, 70. Brune's, 70; other grades, 48@60. New Orleans Molasses, 60@68.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 9¾; Good, 9½; Fair, 8¾. Rangoon, 8@8½. Patna, 8.

SPICES—Pepper, 22. Allspice, 18. Cassia, 50. Cloves, 20. Nutmegs, $1.30.

HAY—Is steady with a demand fully up to the offerings, but there is no change in prices; prime tight pressed timothy, by the car load, $24@25.

HIDES—Green Salted, 10½@11½; Green Butcher's, 8; Dry Flint, 21@22; Green Calf Skins, 14@15; Green Salted Calf, 17@18.

HUSKS—Quoted at 2½@2¾ cts.

HONEY—Is in steady demand and prime white clover honey, in good condition, sells readily at 28@30.

HEMP—Is higher; last sales reported at $165 per ton.

LIME—Perrysburg white, $2,00@2.25 per bbl; Cleveland $2.25; Eastern, $1.75.

MILL FEED—Is steady with a fair jobbing trade at $21@22 for Bran; $23@25 for Seconds; $33@35 for Middlings, and $43@45 for Oil Meal.

ONIONS—In steady demand, and we can report regular sales at $3.50@4.00 per bbl.

OIL—No. 1 Lard Oil, (Pittsburgh make) 70@72 to the trade, and 75 in a small way. No. 2 quoted at 58@60.

PEA NUTS—Steady at 12@13 cts.

POULTRY—We can report a steady demand and regular sales at 55@60 cts per pair for young, and 70@75 for old, by the coop.

PROVISIONS—Plain Shoulders, 6¾@6¾; sugar cured shoulders, 9¾; clear sides, 9¾; ribbed sides, 8¾; Breakfast Bacon, 10¾@11; sugar cured hams, 15@15¾; Dried Beef, 18@18¾. Mess Pork, $14¾@14¾. Prime kettle Lard, 9¾ in tcs; 10 in kegs and 11¾ in pails. Refined Lard, 10¾.

POTATOES—Sweets are in steady demand, and we can report regular sales at $3.00@3.50 for Baltimore's and $4.00@4.50 for Jersey's. Irish Potatoes, not much inquired for except in a retail way.

RAGS—Sales, 4@4¼ cts per lb.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is more inquired for but unchanged; we can report sales to the trade at $3.25 and in small lots at $3.50@3.75. Clover Seed is quiet, with small sales at $7.00. Flaxseed is unchanged at $1.80.

SUMAC—Sales Tennessee Sumac at 4½ cts

WILLOWS—Quoted firm at 10 cts.

PITTSBURGH CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, September 9, 1871.

RECEIPTS STOCK.

The receipts of stock at the Central Yards for the week ending to-day, were as follows:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	420 cars.	447 cars.
Hogs	162 "	124 "
Sheep	80 "	138 "
Horses	20 "	31 "
Mules	4 "	11 "
Total	686	751 "

CATTLE.

The receipts, as will be seen, although not up to those of last week, were large, nevertheless, 420 cars, though, of course, a large proportion of these were through cattle, and, consequently, were not offered here. Since the date of our last report, on Wednesday, the market has varied but little, and there are but few new features worthy of notice; prime shipping cattle have been in steady demand all week, and, that too, at an advance of ¼@½ of a cent per pound, as compared with last week, while common stock has been dull and draggy, as there were but few buyers, comparatively speaking, for this particular grade, and the fact that the bulk of the offerings consisted of this kind prevented any improvement in prices; on the other hand, the supply of prime shipping stock was scarcely equal to the demand, and, consequently, holders experienced no difficulty in closing out, and, that too, at the advance above referred to.

Prime to extra shipping cattle, fat and smooth, may be quoted at 5¾@6¼; there were two or three droves sold at 6 cts, but these were taken at car weights, which is considered equivalent to ¼ off, and one bunch brought 6¾, delivered in New York, considered equivalent to 5¾ here. There were but few cattle sold at the outside quotations, in consequence of the fact there were but few good enough.

HOGS.

Receipts for week fair, 162 cars, and the great proportion of these consisted of the common and medium grades; this being the case, prime corn fed, such as are usually bought for Philadelphia, have been in steady demand all week, at pretty full prices, while "grassers," as they are termed by dealers, have been and continue dull and prices are lower; the great objection to this kind of hogs is the shrinkage, and to shippers this is a very important item, as they have to stand the loss. Common grassers quoted at 4@4½; good Yorkers, $4,60@4,75; good mixed, $5; prime Philadelphia tops, $5.10@5,15.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY Sept. 9, 1871.

The oil market has been very dull during the entire week, and, while the volume of business has been very light, prices, particularly for refined, are weak and considerably lower. Crude, also, has been very dull, but there is no material decline as yet, producers being unwilling to make concessions in order to effect sales, preferring to hold, in anticipation of a better market for refined; however, the indications for an improvement are not very bright—instead of getting better, it has been growing worse and worse. Refined, within the past week, has declined a full cent per gallon, while crude has only dropped about 5 cts per bbl. The consequence is, business is almost at a stand, as refiners, in the present condition of the market, can neither buy crude nor sell refined, and if it was not for filling of old contracts, there would be no business whatever.

Receipts crude this week, 23,744; last week, 26,308; January 1st to date, 791,829, same time last year, 756,770. Exports refined this week, 18,202; last week, 25,563; January 1st to date, 491,892; same time last year, 497,514; sales this week, 2,400 bbls crude, 7,000 refined; last week, 3,800 bbls crude: 1,000 bbls refined.

CRUDE.

Spot is quoted nominally at 12—there was a settlement at this figure, on Friday, and a sale of seller all year at 11¾. Buyer all year is nominal at 12¾. Parker is still held at $4,60, but there are no buyers.

REFINED.

Continues weak and very dull, and prices as compared with yesterday are a shade lower; September quoted at 23¾@23¾; October at 23¾@23¾; and November at 24. The feeling is beginning to prevail that the bottom has been reached but of this there is no certainty—it is not possible, however, that prices will go much lower.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, September 9.—Business with the dry goods jobbers continues very lively, and prices are steady and firm, influenced by the light supplies of wool and cotton on sale and the extreme prices prevalent for the same, both at home and abroad. It would appear now as if prices of all textiles adapted to the wants of the trade would be firmly maintained throughout. RIVER NEWS.

—The death of Captain Hugh Campbell is announced in our obituary columns. He was an old steamboatman and universally respected by all who knew him. He died of paralysis. A sketch of his life will be found in another place in this paper.

—A telegram from Louisville, says: A slight disturbance occurred between the laborers employed by Contractor McGlincy, on the second section of the canal, this forenoon. They were paid to-day, and on receiving their wages left work and began drinking and fussing. Several fracases occurred, but no one was injured beyond a few bruised faces. The origin of the difficulty is said to be some misunderstanding regarding their wages. The men have not yet returned to work. Gen. Weitzel will obviate further trouble, and perfect such arrangements that the work on this section will proceed without more delay or interruption.

—A Memphis telegram under date of Thursday says: The Mollie Ebert passed up early this morning with a very light trip, 4½ days from New Orleans, and goes to St. Louis. She reports no steamers in trouble on the way. The steamer Fort Smith arrived from Bell's Landing, above Vicksburg, with the hull of the J. F. Wheeler in tow. The Dictator lost only one coal barge, the Monitor, at Island No 40. It contained 17,500 bushels of coal, and was insured in the Marine Company, of St. Louis. The actual loss was about six thousand dollars.

—Wednesday's St. Louis Democrat says: The Carrie V. Kountz is the liveliest sunk boat we have heard of for some time. It seems, after all the talk, that the compartments into which her hull was divided, whether water-tight or not, proved quite valuable to her in the accident which befel her below Columbus. She was long in sinking, and was raised about as quickly. The Carrie V. goes on the docks here to-day for repairs, and will be off and ready for business perhaps on Saturday.

—The Paducah Kentuckian has been employing a funny man lately. This is his latest: There were 321 steamboat arrivals at Cairo during the month of August and 3,210,000,000 cocktails drank there during the same period, nine-tenths of them being paid for in "chalk marks."

—The steamer John Scott was launched at the Madison Marine Railway on Wednesday, and the steamer John C. Shalcross was hauled out on the Ways to be overhauled and repaired. There is another boat at the yard nearly ready for launching.

—The St. Louis Democrat is responsible for the following: We learn from good authority that recently a very interesting item occurred—the marriage in Allegheny city of Messrs. R. C. Gray and M. W. Beltzhoover to sisters.

—The new Portsmouth and Guyandotte packet soon to be put in the trade by Captain McAllister & Co., in place of the Mountain Belle, is to be named "Fannie Dugan," after Miss Fannie, daughter of Thomas Dugan.

—The Cincinnati Commercial of Friday says: Captain M. W. Beltzhoover is in the city visiting old friends. He has been absent in Europe for a couple of years, and is enjoying most excellent health.

—The Red Wing, running between Keokuk and St. Paul, has been obliged by low water to lay up. The stern-wheeler Savanna takes her place.

—Captain Samuel Houston, Supervising Inspector is instructing the local board at Nashville, relative to the "pints" of the new steamboat law.

—Capt. Wm. J. Kountz will put a boat into the St. Louis and Ouachita trade the coming season.

—The towboat Florence was to have been sold at St. Louis, Thursday, by the U. S. Marshal.

Mandamus Issued.

A writ of mandamus was issued from the Court of Common Pleas, Saturday morning upon the Supervisors of Kilbuck township to compel them to pay $3?0, claimed by James O'Halloran and Charles O'Brien, contractors for the building of a public road in the township. The road originally cost $1,500, one thousand of which was paid by private subscription. No provision was made for the payment of the balance, until the act of the Legislature was passed, requiring the Supervisors of the township to settle the claim for $500 within one year from the date of the passage of the bill; that time has expired and hence the suit.

The Cheapest and Best.

Amongst the many Sewing Machines now offered for sale, we doubt if there is any better than the celebrated Wilson Shuttle Machine, and this is the only one, we believe, that is not subject to monopoly, and therefore it can be sold at just twenty dollars cheaper than the other machines. The Wilson has given perfect satisfaction to all who have used them, and we know of none who have ever complained that they did not do all the work that was claimed for them. The Wilson is fully warranted to keep in good working order FIVE YEARS. It is light and easy to work. It does its work thoroughly; does not drop stiches, will do all kinds of sewing, and is always ready for action. Call and see them at the saleroom, No. 14 Sixth (late St. Clair) street.

Base Ball.

At Mansfield, Saturday afternoon, the Charters club defeated the Jacksons of that place. The score stood 26 to 25.

A game between the Chris. Graff club and the Good Will club came off, Saturday, resulting in favor of the former. Score—23 to 21.

The Lloyd and Black club defeated the Chambers, of the South Side, Saturday, by a score of 27 to 12.

The last game of the season will come off on Saturday afternoon next, at Union Park, between the Enterprise boys and the famous Eckfords, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who last week defeated the White Stockings. Game will be called at half-past three o'clock.

The Oaklands intend playing the Cedar Rapids on the coming Tuesday, nothing preventing. This latter club, as most persons are aware, is composed altogether of colored men.

Fifth Avenue Market.

There was a good attendance at the Fifth avenue market-house Saturday, and business was brisk to the most satisfactory degree. Gradually, as the new headquarters for supplies becomes known, it gains in public favor, and, in all probability, it will not be long until it is as popular as its most sanguine projectors could wish.

Superintendent Kilgore, had another little sale, during the afternoon, when one of the storerooms and two coffee stands were sold. The storeroom corner Miltenberger street and Fifth avenue, was sold for $125. The annual rental was fixed at $500. The storeroom on the upper corner was not disposed of, the rental has been fixed at $500.

Two of the coffee stands were sold at a premium of $50. The yearly rental for one is $300 and the other $2?0.

The Ferrie Property.

The difficulty between the school directors of the Sixth ward, Allegheny, and Mrs. Francis J. Ferrie, who owns a lot adjoining the school property, was brought up again in the Court of Common Pleas Saturday morning. Mrs. Ferrie presented a petition asking that new viewers be appointed to assess the value of her property which the School Directors are to take.

The petitioner avers that some of the first viewers were not such discreet and disinterested persons as the act contemplates, one of the said viewers being a school director and tax-collector, and owing his appointment to the school board of Allegheny; and another one being a school director of the Fourth ward, Allegheny.

The court accordingly set aside the first viewers and appointed Messrs. H. M. Boyle, J. G. Reel and James Richey, new viewers to proceed to their work on Wednesday, October 5, at 2 P. M.

Moorhouse & Carsten.

Among the choice retail dry goods stores in this city that of Moorhouse & Carsten may be mentioned with especial emphasis as one of the choicest. The stock is always large and varied and well kept up by continual arrivals from the eastern cities and from the manufactories. Their selections are made with excellent taste and always embrace the newest and best styles. They make a very fine display of black and colored silks of best American and foreign manufacture, and in all other descriptions of goods for ladies dresses their stock is so rich and varied that every taste can be suited. They also of course keep a complete line of staple dry goods, cloths, muslins, flannels, blankets, pantaloon stuffs, &c., &c. Among the attractions of this establishment, and not the least, is that the proprietors are gentlemen of honor and integrity, whose representations may be implicitly believed; they are above the tricks and deceptions which disgrace some of our dealers, and all their salesmen are polite and obliging. Gentlemen and ladies who go a shopping should make it a point to visit the store of Moorhouse & Carsten, No. 21 Fifth avenue.

An Abridged Specimen of Printing Types Made at George Bruce's Son & Co.'s New York Type Foundry, No. 13 Chambers street, New York.

We render thanks to the publishers for a copy of this wonderful collection of specimens which is called abridged, while it would require an unabridged lexicon to name and describe the seemingly endless number and variety of specimens of plain and ornamental letters. Picas, Nonparell, Brevier, Primer, Canon, Aldine, Paragon, and by whatever other name known, and all of them in every conceivable style and shape, double, large, small, condensed, shaded, ornate, Gothic, Italian, French, German, &c., &c. The variety and attraction of this specimen book embraces as nearly as possible everything that any news or job office ever used, desired or heard of, including brass rules in eleven series and adapted to every use. Corner cuts for brass rules in great variety. Circles, ellipses and dashes. There is also an extensive and unique display of electrotyped ornaments, beautiful in design and artistic, adapted to bill and letter heads, envelopes, checks, bills of exchange, circulars, card-books, &c. In this collection will be found cuts innumerable, illustrative of every art and occupation. No mechanic, manufacturer, miner or laboring man will fail to find designs suited to his peculiar business. But we will essay no further description of this wonderful book of specimens. We will gladly show it to any one who may desire to inspect it.

The Imprisoned Commissioners.

It is alleged on high medical authority, that Mr. Wm. H. McGee, one of the ex-Commissioners who is serving out his sentence in the Work House, is in very delicate health and not likely to survive the period for which he was sentenced. If the public were sure that the facts are true, as stated, there are very few in the community, none, we think, who know him, and no humane person who would object to his release. A like sympathy is felt by very many for Mr. Neeley on account of his advanced age. We have been of the number who thought the verdict in their case was a righteous one, and that it was due to the ends of justice that they should suffer the full penalty of the law; that it is expedient when men of the better classes or high in office offended against the laws, that the legal penalties should be enforced with the same rigor as against the commonest malefactor; but in reference to their respective claims on executive clemency, there is one material consideration in favor of the ex-Commissioners, which is, that there is probably not a man in the county who believes that if the Governor should restore them to their families and friends, either of them would again, while he lives, be guilty of anything worthy of bonds or prison; while the common and habitual offender, if pardoned, might be expected to renew his depredations upon society. We do not enroll ourselves, either with those who favor or oppose the pardon of Neeley and McGee, and have only alluded to the subject at this time, because the health of McGee is said to be rapidly declining and the subject of his release is much spoken of among men of all parties who know him.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The theatrical event of the season will be the engagement during the week of Joseph Jefferson in his great specialty of Rip Van Winkle. It is hardly worth our while to speak in eulogy of this eminent actor, whose interpretation of the old sleeper is as fine a piece of acting as can be produced by mortal man. Seats for any night during the week or the matinee can be secured at the box office.

BEAMER'S OPERA HOUSE.—Mr. John Collins the eminent Irish comedian, will appear to-night at the old Opera House in the beautiful and entertaining drama of Rory O'More, supported by a strong caste of characters. Mr. Collins has always been a great favorite with our play-goers, and we have no doubt he will draw large houses during his brief engagement this week. Manager Beamer is determined to furnish the people with first class entertainments, and thus far in the season has been successful in that direction. His exertions are worthy encouragement.

NEWSPAPER ROW.

Elegant Castles in the Air—How Brother Journalists Marched Up the Hill and then Marched Down Again at Homestead.

An amusing feature of the sale at Homestead was that furnished in the disappointment of a number of newspaper chaps who clubbed together, made a ring and resolved to buy a whole row of sites. A meeting was held by our worthy friends, some fifteen in number, on Friday evening, and the programme was laid out. On the handsome map of the plot of ground offered for sale, a council of war was held. It was first resolved to pick out a whole square and erect a "newspaper row" of neat houses. They all were building high and heavy castles in the air and had in their minds' eye the glowing picture of a beautiful little village, where, in the future, they could live happily together and have society all to themselves. Noble idea. Next they resolved to offer no competition with each other and to bid no higher than six hundred dollars a lot. The corner lots were parceled out to two prominent journalists who, for the favor, entered into pledges to pave the sidewalks of the entire square, which was very generous on their part. The plans all laid, the journalists took their departure on the first train, and the sly winks to one another almost convinced the uninitiated that they were either a railroad or City Hall ring going up to gobble the entire tract. Purdy carried the map; Frank Case explained it; Bartley Campbell recited original poetry about green lawns and cosy cottages, and Luty sketched a plan for a village church while Mike McGann, a graduated journalist, made calculations on the lid of a pill box as to how much he might realize from his speculation. They were a happy lot of speculators. Their dreams of fortune were clearly defined and they had a right to be merry. The sale commenced. When two lots were knocked down at $280 each, they chuckled all over with delight, and Duncan Ramsey commenced to talk about buying a whole acre for himself. Taylor whistled gleefully and confided the secret to a friend that he would buy seventeen lots, while Locke talked of the newspaper men leaguing together to get a little park for the use of the (expected) children. The next sale, at $510 a lot, did not raise the stock of cheer held in the crowd, and the faces of those who, five minutes before, had boasted of buying "so muchly" elongated very noticeably. A few more lots went off under the hammer of the genial Smithson, when North slipped aside, and, with a knowing wink acquainted the auctioneer with his presence and gave a bid. This was desertion from the journalistic party but our friend was afraid to wait for newspaper row to be reached, as Capt. Evans had passed him a card on which was written "market active and prices advancing," so he was excusable in taking the advantage. His gentle wink had not the desired effect, however, for the bland auctioneer took a rise on his bid and remarked that he "knows no North, etc." John Neeb tried the same game but when a higher figure than $600 was reached he said "nix" in a most emphatic manner. Well, to make a long story short, the site selected for Newspaper row was finally reached. It was a beautiful piece of ground. Purdy bid just $500. Then some outsider (whose name all the reporters recorded just to know him, you know, in the future) stepped forward and went $500 better. There was a stampede among newspaper men, and they never bid any more. The lots on which they selected for $600 averaged $1,200. And newspaper men now faded away. Now that they had been disappointed as a body they were privileged to go "single handed and alone" and purchase to their heart's content. The Lynch brothers led off and bought four lots which, although looking well on the map, did not turn out as rosy as the purchasers imagined, and on high moral grounds Joe got back the forfeit advanced on the lower grounds. Next Percival Smith bought a homestead which looks as if he contemplated McKeesporting next Fall. Frank Case followed suit and bought two lots from the map view but which turned out to be standing on their ends, adorned with swamps and cut through by a turnpike. Frank backs down like a Major and will try better luck at the sale to-morrow. Our newspaper friends invested no more. They quit the grounds and most of them rode home in in the baggage car. They passed no more sly winks at each other. Breen tried to be facetious, saying that their experience was like the California ground swell, which Purdy improved by saying that he had good grounds to believe that the sale was a put up job—put up too high for the establishment of newspaper row, anyhow. They will all go up agin to-morrow, and we hope will be more successful.

THE DIVORCE BUDGET.

The Unfortunates in Court—Tales of Domestic Bliss.

Hymenial infelicities in the way of divorce suits seem to be largely on the increase, judging from the records of the Courts on Saturday, the plaintive appeals of the wearied ones for relief from the matrimonial yoke, engaging the attention of the Court of Common Pleas for a goodly portion of the day. First on the list came Catharine Miller, who had previously presented a petition praying for separation from John M. Miller, whom she charged with having committed adultery. Miller is an employee in the Fire Department, and resented the charge. The Commissioner who had been appointed to take testimony presented a voluminous report on the strength of which the application was refused and Catharine departed disconsolate.

Lucy A. Victor came off victorious (though now no longer a Victor) in her contest with Lawrence, to whom she was married in 1854, at Spring Hill, Fayette county, and by whom she had been deserted for the past eleven years. She was happy in the granting of the decree.

Charles M. Green was married to Elizabeth Green in 1854, but because Elizabeth, about two years ago, left his house, taking the furniture with her, and all without bidding him farewell, his application for divorce was granted.

Louisa Garrison failed to make out satisfactorily that George A. Garrison, to whom she was wedded in 1865, had deserted her for the past four years, and hence her application was unsuccessful.

Samuel M. Bowman says his wife Lizzie has not been about his home for the past two years. W. K. Jennings, Esq., was appointed to take testimony.

C. S. Ammon was appointed for a similar duty in the case of Isabella Gregg vs. Alexander Gregg.

Maggie H. Price wishes the intervention of the courts to procure her a legal divorce in a peaceful way, from B. H. Price, whom she avers has threatened several times to dissolve their matrimonial partnership by immolating one of the firm. He never expressed a desire to be the victim, and hence Maggie fears him. The case will be heard again.

Wm. Rodgers says he has been so abused by his connubial companion Sarah, that it will hereafter be a moral impossibility to reside with her in that peace and harmony which the law requires. He will be heard again.

Eliza Stewart was married to William Stewart in March, 1863, and lived with him until January, 1871, when she says forbearance ceased to be a virtue, and she left him. She now applies for divorce on the ground of personal abuse. She will be heard again.

OBITUARY.

Captain Hugh Campbell.

We are very much grieved to be called upon to announce the death of this life-long friend, which occurred on Saturday evening last, at eleven o'clock, at the home of his sister in Cochranton, Crawford county. He had been suffering for a long time from paralysis, a stroke of which, first prostrating him more than a year ago, and since then he has been more or less an invalid and a sufferer. Capt. Cambell was born in County Down, Ireland, near Newtonards, about the year 181?, and came to Pittsburgh when twenty years of age, where his home has been since, only interrupted by his absence whilst steamboating on the western rivers. In 18?9 the iron steamer Valley Forge was built, and Mr. Campbell was engaged as first mate, having had some previous experience as mate on the Iris and as a sailor. After this he commanded at different times, and superintended the constructing of the following steamers, of which he was a part owner. The Robt. Morris, Hindoo, Jeannette, Wm. Baird, Sir Wm. Wallace, Mary Cook, W. R. Authur and Mary Davage. He commanded for their owners, also, the large and elegant packets, Pittsburgh, Wild Wagoner and St. Charles. In whatever position placed, he always gave perfect satisfaction and proved himself a thorough and competent steamboatman. His acquaintance was large, not only in this community, but throughout the valleys of the Ohio and Mississippi, and wherever known he was universally respected for his kind heart, and genial, frank disposition. Captain Hugh Campbell was in its truest sense a self-made man, was early thrown out upon the rough world to battle for himself, and thus denied the privileges which many enjoy. His heart always beat warmly for his fellowman, and his companionable and winning disposition made for him many ardently attached friends, among a very extended acquaintance, and his loss to them will be sadly mourned.

We know no one in this community whose loss would be more generally regretted, as none could entwine themselves more lovingly through a gentle and agreeable disposition. Farewell, old friend, we shall never look upon your smiling face again, but through life we shall never cease to cherish the recollection of your great heart and your many virtues. Other friends may fall off by the way-side, new ones may take their places, but we shall never, no, never forget genial, humorous, kind, honest Hughey Campbell, so long as memory shall retain its seat. Good friend, kind soul, farewell.

M'CLURE SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Trouble About the Transfer of Property—The City and Township at War.

A discussion which has been going on between the School Directors in the McClure District and Ninth ward, Allegheny, was again brought to the attention of the Court of Common Pleas on Saturday. It seems that when a part of the township was made into what is now called the Ninth ward, of Allegheny, there was some trouble about the division of the school property. This was valued at $23,365.50 clear of all debt, and the viewers who were sent to appraise it made a division, allowing the remaining portion of the township, not consolidated, $12,677.36 for its share, which amount was paid. This, however, was not satisfactory to McClure, and they took the matter to court. New viewers were appointed, and they decided that "McClure" was entitled to $2,247 in addition to what they had received. An injunction was accordingly asked for on Saturday to restrain the "Ninth ward" Directors from taking possession of the school property until this additional amount was paid. The injunction, however, was refused, and so the matter stands as it was, with the advantage in favor of the Ninth ward Directors, who have possession of the school house.

SANITARY.

Business Transacted by the Birmingham Sanitary Commission.

The Sanitary Committee of Birmingham held a meeting on Saturday evening and received reports of the sub-committees. Mr. C. Evans was elected treasurer. A resolution was adopted providing for general and free vaccination. For this purpose Dr. J. D. Thomas was appointed to attend to vaccination in the first precinct and Dr. J. W. Riggs in the second precinct, at fifty cents a patient. The request was made that the friends of deceased parties who may die with the small-pox shall bury them within ten hours after death or sooner if possible. The chair was empowered with authority to appoint sanitary policemen for the purpose of discovering and abating nuisances maintained prejudicial to health, and distribute disinfectant, whose salary shall be $75,00 per month. Parties were requested to close their places of business, or if not the committee will placard them "Small-pox" in large letters if the house contains any case. An order was signed, drawing the $500 appropriated for sanitary purposes by action of councils. They are in earnest in their fight against the small-pox, and no doubt will soon eradicate it from our midst. Let the good work go on.

BREVITIES.

SUMMER touring is about over.

CHESTNUTS are to be unusually plenty this season.

MR. ACKENHILE expects to reach eastern Ohio by the 1st of November with a carefully-calculated and well located line.

THE information against John Lutton, made before the Mayor by C. R. Norton, has been withdrawn, the case having been amicably settled.

THE music in the Allegheny Park, Saturday evening, was enjoyed by thousands of visitors. The temperance Syndicate is entitled to thanks for its liberality in providing the same.

ONE OF THE EMPLOYEES in the Pittsburgh Locomotive Works, Sixth ward, Allegheny, had his hand caught in a "planer," Saturday morning, and terribly gashed. Dr. Riggs dressed the wound.

HORACE FOX, ESQ., the genial proprietor of the Chatauqua House, Mayville, N. Y., was in the city yesterday. He has a host of friends hereabouts who are always glad to accord him a hearty welcome.

WILLIAM HESPENHEID, the well known merchant tailor, 6th street, returned home from New York, on Saturday, where he purchased one of the handsomest stocks of goods ever brought to this city.

THE dinner at Hubley & Co.'s, No. 195 Penn avenue, will be most tempting to-day as it embraces no less than one hundred and five different dishes. The popularity of these elegant rooms is very great and no wonder.

THE alarm of fire Saturday night, about eight o'clock, in Allegheny, was occasioned by a slight fire which occurred in the dwelling of C. Link, on Chestnut street, caused by the overturning of a lamp on the supper table.

JOHN MOORHOUSE, of Moorhouse & Carsten, dry goods merchant, 5th avenue, returned home from the East Saturday noon. Mr. Moorhouse is one of the shrewdest dry goods buyers in the city, and as for taste, he can't be excelled.

WEBB, the man who stabbed Wylie Thursday night, at the corner of Pike and Thirteenth streets, claims that he was not arrested, but became a voluntary prisoner. He gave bail for a hearing. Wylie, it is now believed, is not dangerously injured.

MR. ROBERT BARKER, employed in Ingham & Son's planing mill, First ward, Allegheny, had two fingers of his left hand badly lacerated by a circular saw on Saturday. Dr. P. W. Herron amputated them, subsequently, such a course being found necessary.

THE engineers locating the Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Chicago railroad went into camp near Shaws' mills, Pine creek, last week. The party is under the charge of Mr. Charles Ackenhile as principal assistant engineer of the new line, with Mr. Curtis as topographer, and Messrs. Matson and Bradley as transitmen.

GERTRUDE GEANZ, a German emigrant, who had just arrived in this city, died suddenly yesterday at the Union Hotel. Coroner West held an inquest on the body and a verdict 'died natural causes" was rendered. The corpse was taken to the residence of her husband, a German laborer, in Birmingham, who recently arrived and found work in that borough.

THE first great sale of lots took place on Saturday at Homestead was a great success, the attendance being very large and the bidding very lively. Owing probably to the easy terms and other special inducements, good prices were obtained. The excursionists were very kindly treated and well cared for and barring the delay at the Railroad station to return, there was no cause whatever for complaint. At noon a number of the newspaper fraternity and others were very handsomely entertained at the hospitable mansion of Abdial McClure, Esq., for which they return sincere thanks.

HOMES FOR THE PEOPLE.

The "Homestead" Sale of Lots the Most Successful Sale on Record—Another Excursion up the Monongahela Next Tuesday.

In company with probably three thousand ladies and gentlemen, on Saturday, we visited the new suburb "Homestead" to spy out this new land of promise to which everbody seems bent on migrating.

The day was delightful, and the arrangements of the company for the entertainment of its guests were perfect. Nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion, except some unaccountable mismanagement of somebody connected with the Connelisville railroad, which kept the vast crowd waiting on its return nearly two hours, and then packed them into half the number of cars that took them out. This apart, the whole affair was a great success. Nobody could fail to admire and praise the exquisite situation. Everybody pronounced "Homestead" the place. The Washington cornet band led the company over the ground to a perfect gem of a picnic grove, above Nineteenth avenue, where our genial, but wide-awake, friend, Smithson, proceeded to business by offering the extreme points of the place, lots 531 and 532. He did not waste much time on them, and they were knocked down to R. M. Kennedy, Esq., at $280 each.

It was apparent that Smithson meant business; if you wanted a lot, you had only to bid for it, but you had to do that quickly. Sharp competition followed, for the next two lots, and they went for the surprising figure of $510 each; then followed an hour of the most successful real estate sale never witnessed. Over forty lots were sold to about thirty purchasers at prices averaging nearly $400 for lots 60 by 110 above Sixteenth avenue.

Lunch was then announced at the big spring, in the grove on Sixteenth avenue. Lunch was a success, at least in everything but the servants, who were rather too few and "muchly" too lazy. The sale was resumed on the beautiful slope at Thirteenth and Twelfth avenues. It was here that the people began to show their appreciation of "Homestead" and of the grand scheme of the company for providing homes for the people. The bidding was very spirited, and the prices realized must have been very satisfactory to the managers. Choice sites were snapped up in a twinkling at ten to twelve hundred dollars, and, down at Eigth avenue, $1,400, $1,500, and even $1,900 was not unusual. These prices although nominally large cannot be considered excessive, when we consider that they are to be paid in ten yearly installments, without interest, and the further most excellent condition by which the purchaser has a life policy given him without cost, which in case of his death will cancel the "mortgage" that otherwise often robs his orphans of a half paid for home.

This feature of the company's programme was much and very approvingly commented on, and to it doubtless the company is largely indebted for the grand success that was achieved yesterday.

It was, of course, impossible to get over the whole ground, and many were disappointed in not having an opportunity to bid on the lots in their favorite localities on the level below the railroad. They will be glad to know that the excursion and sale will be repeated on Tuesday, when the crowd will hardly be so large and unwieldly, and it is expected the whole town will probably be "sold out" at that time.

Among the pleasant features of Saturday's excursion, which we hope will be no less prominent on Tuesday, was the presence of many of the mothers, wives, sisters, and, we doubt not, the sweethearts of the future citizens of "Homestead."

Another thing that must be very gratifying to purchasers, and one that will keep up the demand for lots, is the fact that the purchasers are made up almost exclusively of those who bought one or two lots for immediate improvement.

We have not the opportunity at this writing to give a list of the purchasers and the prices paid for the various lots, but advise our friends to go to the sale on Tuesday and "see how it is themselves."

RECLAIMED BY ITS FATHER.

A Little Girl in Court—A Guardian and a Father's Dispute—The Child Given to its Parent.

There was an affecting scene in the Court of Quarter Sessions Room on Saturday morning, brought about by a decision in a habeas corpus case which has been pending for some time. It seems that about two years ago the wife of Mr. William Stewart, an employee on the Pan Handle Road, died leaving her husband with two small children. The children were placed in care of Daniel Davis of Birmingham, but subsequently one of them, the eldest, was taken away. Afterward Mr. Stewart called for the other and offered to pay for its keeping up to that time, but his demand was refused. Finding it impossible to gain the child by any other method Mr. Stewart appealed to Court but was baffled for nearly a year, when finally Davis was found by the officers and the notice served upon him.

The case was fully heard on Saturday morning, Stewart establishing his claim and his ability to maintain the child, which is about three years of age. Judge Sterrett accordingly remanded it into his custody, and then a scene occurred. The little girl wept and screamed as it was taken away from Mrs. Davis, who had been holding it while the proceedings were going on. The lady was also affected to tears, visibly, and seemed as sad as the child at the separation. The father manifested great joy at the result, and as soon as the decree was announced took his daughter and hastily disappeared.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Third Day—Afternoon Session.

Conference opened in usual form. Services by Dr. Bates, from the Maryland Annual Conference. Roll called. Minutes read and approved. Several committees reported as follows:

Our Fraternal Relations: That there were five visitors present—Bates and Swentzel of Maryland, Williams of Illinois, Hastings, Baker and Chambers of Muskingum Conference of the Methodist Church introduced. Committee on Book Condern reported. Committee on college interests reported, showing the importance of our educational institutions, especially Adrian College, which is reported as doing a good work as a general educator, and especially for the Church in preparing young men for the ministry. One hundred dollars being asked of Conference as its share for certain repairs, Conference proceeded to raise the same at once. A committee of three was elected to divide the conference district into four sub-districts for Camp-meetings, Ministerial Associations, and Sunday School Conventions.

Order of the day. Hearing fraternal delegates was taken up at three o'clock, H. W. Williams of Illinois conference, said that his conference is in full sympathy with us, is doing a good work, and sends hearty christian greeting. Dr. Bates of the M. P. Church addressed the conference, saying that his conference, Maryland, is prospering in its various interests. He expressed the fraternal regards of his conference, said they desired to continue kind visits, and hoped time would come when the two churches would be one. Dr. Swentzel of the same conference followed in the same happy strain, concluding with an earnest argument in favor of union.

Rev. J. W. Baker, of Muskingum Conference, next addressed the Conference, conveying the love of his Conference and saying words of cheer.

Rev. Wm. Hastings, of the same Conference, followed, giving pleasant words of fraternal greeting from his Conference and himself.

Thomas Chambers, a layman, from the same Conference, followed with a love message from his brethren. All earnestly requested the Conference to reciprocate their visits.

Rev. Westfall and Dr. Scott responded, earnestly reciprocating the love and fraternal sympathies of the brethren and conferences by them represented.

Committee on Book Concern reported as follows, which was adopted:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BOOK CONCERN.

The publishing interests of the Methodist Church are a precious heritage. The body should not be contented until ten thousand "Recorders" and thirty thousand "Sunday Schools" are printed, circulated and read by the families of the Church. And we hold that Pastor to be wanting in wisdom for his office, and fealty to the Church which gives him position who will not make the circulation of our Church Literature as truly a specialty, as to know and counsel his flock.

As a conference we accept the added responsibilities enjoined upon us by the late General Conference, by the removal to our midst of our denominational Publishing Interests. Not that these will be ours more than Ohio's or that of other sister conferences, yet their character and success, will, as we believe, receive from the larger business and church life which will surround them in Pittsburgh a power for good beyond the past.

Prominent among the educational forces of the day stands the Press. With the masses this is often more than the school or the pulpit in moulding public and social opinion. Its issues are farther reaching and frequently substitute, instead of companionating and pioneering the Bible and the pulpit. No wonder, then, that the first thought and care of every party and sect is to provide an organ through which to defend and propogate its opinions. Without such no cause, new or old, could survive a modern generation; with such even bad causes reach the maturity which gives them the power for so much harm. Our fathers saw this point, and hence ecclesiastical reform in Methodistic church life, laid hold of the Press as its right arm of strength. The Mutual Rights, Wesleyan Repository, Western Correspondent, Methodist Protestant, and last, though not least, our own beloved Methodist Recorder, have been rods of terror over head of church tyranny, and guides to the better realization of New Testament ecclesiasticism.

All honor to Ohio for what she has done to raise up and nourish our noble Book Concern. And while she parts with its possession with regret, we pledge her, and the denomination at large, that we will do our best to make more stalwart the child of her many prayers and noble benefactions. Her graceful action, at her recent session, we reciprocate, and respond that the Concern is still hers, and ours it shall be to her, and to the conference whose struggles have given it prestige, while striving to invest it with the greater power its new location will naturally give it. We learn that the Board of Trust have rented suitable rooms, both for the Book Room and its agent, and for the Editor and his compositors. They will be ready for occupation by the time the General Conference fixed in which to remove the Concern.

The Board has also prepared, and organized under a new Constitution and By-laws, and will soon be a chartered body under the laws of Pennsylvania. Of the Board, Dr. W. Collin is President, Wm. J. Troth, Secretary, and Wm. Reinhart is Treasurer. Among the changes the Board intends at an early day to effect, are these:

1. To change the form of the Recorder from its present quarto form, back to its former folio, though larger than then. This in view of accommodating advertisers, for one thing who always prefer such form.

2. To reduce to $2, per year, a change we both commend and believe will prove even of pecuniary advantage, because of the added subscriptions thereby invited.

3. Make it a medium of a class of advertisers whose healthful business they are willing to pay, to make known, and in being made known, will in no wise compromise the paper in fulfilling its mission.

We offer the following resolutions, in conclusion.

1. That the present increased circulation of our church papers is to us a matter of congratulation and just pride. The new editor, Bro. Clark, and the publisher, Bro. Bassett, have our fullest confidence, and we commend them for their fidelity and industry.

2. That as a Conference we pledge our better endeavors to promote the wider circulation of our church periodicals, believing that our success as a people hinges on intelligent appreciation of our church principles, as well as heart devotion to the work of disciplining men to Christ.

3. Inasmuch as the elder branch of Methodism, once our persecutor, is seeking chiefly by the press to habituate herself with the semblance of the garments we have so long worn, we congratulate her on even "seeing men as trees walking" on the subject of Lay Rights, and wish her all success in her first efforts to garnish the tombs of our prophet father's. This action should make us more steadfast, more true, more resolved to honor both one record and the principles to which we have pledged our fealty.

The Price of Lots at Homestead.

The excitement among bidders at Homestead on Saturday hardly exceeded that among the audience then and since in regard to the relative prices of lots there and elsewhere. There is in all such cases a defined party of "bulls and bears," and Homestead was no exception. The "bulls" of course included all the buyers, and in any who doubtless will be, and the "bears" naturally might be expected to include all the disinterested philanthropists who have lots to sell in the "Sixty-fourth ward of the city," and also all the doubting Thomases whose lack of faith is the occasion of their being able to tell of the "splendid chances they had of making a big thing on some past occasion."

Accordingly one will tell you of the great good thing he did in getting his lot at such a price; another will tell you about the wildest bidding he ever saw; next comes one who is going to have No. — if it goes a "hundred higher" than the one adjoining, and here is a benevolent old gray beard, who "owns lots" out at —; he is perfectly enraged at the folly of people who, he says, are throwing away money in that way, when he can sell those lots for $——. Another of the same age and ilk took a different view of things and chuckled hugely while he said, "it will add fifty dollars to every lot I have on M——."

Now, for the gratification of all concerned, we propose to apply some common sense to this mooted point, and see whether the lots at Homestead are cheap or dear to those who want them, and in doing so shall show why such high figures were bid, and that the prices were low and the lots cheap.

Such figures were never before bid for lots in a new suburb, because no new suburb about this city was ever before opened to settlement which was in itself so desirable a place of residence, or under circumstances so favorable to its rapid settlement by a desirable population. Commonly the plan is to sell a few sites to those who improve first at very small prices and hold the bulk of the lots for a big thing after the first settlers have endured for four or five years all the inconveniences of an isolated, straggling village, which is neither town nor country. No such narrow policy is to prevail at Homestead. The whole place is to be sold at once to purchasers for immediate improvement, and the whole town is to be built up at once. The settlers who move there next spring, will move into a handsome, populous village, where they will have all the conveniences of the city and all the beauties and advantages of the country at once. Their railway accommodation will be first class from the start, the P. V. & C. R. R. being the first to lay a double track from the beginning.

Then it must be remembered that the figures bid, and at which the lots were nominally sold, cannot be fairly compared with relative prices of lots in other localities, because they are not subject to to the interest, and moreover they include a life insurance given by the company without charge, which, in the event of the death of the purchaser will cancel the "mortgage" that elsewhere will rob his orphan of a half-paid-for home.

These considerations, to those who rightly consider them, especially the last, are sufficient reasons not only for the prices bid but for even higher. But were the prices high? Were the lots dear? A thing is dear when, in view of its intrinsic worth, it is hard to buy and difficult to pay for. A home of his own to a man who expects to raise a family is of more intrinsic worth than any other purchasable commodity. Granted. Now take one of the young clerks who bought at Homestead on Saturday; he has a hundred and fifty dollars, and can on his income live like a Christian ought to and save as much yearly; offer him a lot as good as, or better even than the best at Homestead for $600—one-fourth in hand and the balance in 1, 2 and 3 years, with interest. You mock him! It is beyond his reach; he must continue to be a tenant; his family grows faster than his income; hope dies within him, and he dies a renter—and a poor man.

Offer him a lot at Homestead for $1,000, in ten yearly payments, without interest, he makes the first payment, and gathers up another hundred that makes the second payment on his little cottage—he is a land owner—his rent ceases and he is on the sure road to prosperity and wealth. The lots at Homestead are not dear to such a purchaser at any price; he is able to pay for them. Whether or not the Company make more or less profit than they ought to is not to be considered by him. He is a fool who would let that question deprive him of an opportunity to get a home that he may call his own. Young man or old man, if you are able to get a home of your own at Homestead quicker and easier than elsewhere, that's where lots are cheap for you.

J. F. Beilstein.

This well-known and justly favorite butcher desires us to notify the public that his stands are, and will continue, to be found only as heretofore at No. 78 in the Diamond market, Pittsburgh, and No. 39 in the Allegheny market; for these two stands, and only for these, he slaughters every other day, and for these his steady customers well know he provides the best fatted and best prepared meats to be found in the country. At these stands there will be found at no time any but sweet and sound fresh-killed beef or mutton, or lamb or veal. He challenges comparison of his meats with any to be found in the celebrated Philadelphia or London shambles. Customers who have sought him in the new Fifth avenue market are apprised that he is only to be found at the two stands above named, the reputation of which is very high, and he devotes all his experience and energy to keep it so, to retain his many customers and to multiply them more and more. Remember, his stands are No. 78 Old Pittsburgh and No. 39 Allegheny markets.

A MOTHER'S LUNACY.

The Campbell Case in Court—The Defendant Declared a Lunatic.

The Campbell lunacy case came up and was decided in the Court of Common Pleas Saturday morning. Our readers will remember that a petition was presented from James M. Campbell a few weeks ago, praying that a commission be appointed to investigate and decide upon the lunacy of his mother. The lady, who is fifty years of age, is the mother of four children, the eldest of whom (who is the petitioner) is twenty-three years of age and the youngest about five. Her husband, David Campbell, died a short time since, and she came into possession of a dower in his estate. The property consisted of a farm of two hundred acres in South Fayette township, this county, which is the family homestead, and one hundred and fifty acres in Union township, Muskingum county, Ohio. Her interest in the real estate yields an annual income of $250. In addition she has $5,000 in personal property.

About the first of July last she manifested symptoms of insanity which increased to such an extent that she had to be taken to Dixmont, Subsequently, when it was thought her malady was incurable, the petition for a commission was presented and S. B. Fulton appointed to take testimony. Saturday morning he appeared in court and presented his report setting forth the facts as herein given, when the court made an order appointing James M. Campbell, the petitioner, "a committee to take charge of the lunatic." Mr. Campbell gave bond in the sum of $10,000 for the faithful performance of his trust.

The case has excited considerable interest in the community where the parties are known.

PETROLEUM STATISTICS.

Oil Report for the Month of August—Production, Shipments, Exports, &c.

From the Titusville Herald of Saturday we take the following oil report for the month of August:

PRODUCTION.

The yield of the oil region during August, as compared with the production of July shows an average increase per day of over 200 barrels, or a total production for the month, of 544,668 barrels against 535,102 barrels the preceding month.

The average production per day during the month was 17,472 bbls, against 17,777 bbls, during August 1870.

There were but few new wells completed during the month, and the increase resulted mainly from the "strikes" of the preceding month, which rendered the production at the first of August much larger than the daily average of the preceding month.

Upon the older tracts there was a slight decline, but not marked at any single point. The Shamburg, Rouseville, Reno, Franklin and Bean farm districts show a decline varying from thirty to one hundred barrels each. Parker's Landing exhibits a slight decrease, but not sufficiently great to note.

The largest increase of the month occurred in the vicinity of Church Run, near Titusville, where it reached two hundred barrels daily. Pithole and vicinity exhibits a gain of about fifty barrels, and West Hickory sixty barrels daily. There was also a gain near Tidioute of about sixty barrels per day, and the East Sandy field shows a gain of nearly sixty barrels. Enterprise and Colorado, and the Foster district, upon the Allegheny, each show a slight increase in the production. Upon the remaining farms and tracts n the region there was little change, some increasing and others falling off—but the change in nearly all cases amounting to but a few barrels and not affecting the general production.

The number of wells drilling on the 1st inst., on the principal farms and producing tracts of the oil region was 364.

DEVELOPMENT AND TERRITORY.

There were no discoveries of new fields during the month, but a gradual extension of operations occurred in the Cranberry, Parkers and Church Run districts, and with no indications of a terminus to the oil belts that mark those sections. In the vicinity of Church Run the number of drilling wells has but slightly decreased from that of the month previous. The "Vera" well, which is at least a mile north of any producing well in this vicinity, is now being tested, and the result is watched with considerable eagerness by those who look for a further extension of the narrow belt upon which the good wells have so far been found.

At Parker's Landing the territory is gradually extending in a west and southwest direction, and the number of wells going down has suffered no decline. The points at which the most extensive operations are being conducted are along the vicinity of Bear Creek, in a southwest direction, towards Martinsburg, and upon the East side of the river near the mouth of the Clarion river, where several wells have recently been started, and preparations for numerous others already made. Upon the Milford farm, lying west of Foxburg, several wells are going down, though no important result is anticipated from this locality, as the wells are shallow and in what is known as second sand rock.

THE STOCK.

The total stock in the region on the first of September was 541,875 barrels, against 530,933 barrels the first of August.

THE SHIPMENTS.

The total shipments from the region during the month amounted to 507,131 barrels of forty-five gallons each, against 521,586 in July. Following is a capitulation of the shipments:

SMALL-POX AND VACCINATION.

We have received the following from Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, with a request that it be published:

The public mind, for some time past, has been considerably exercised and we think needlessly alarmed, on account of the prevalence of small pox.

That it has existed to a more than ordinary extent can hardly be questioned, judging from the mortuary reports of our city, nor can it be doubted that it is at all times a loathsome disease, which, when it has once seized upon the human constitution is fraught with more or less danger.

Every disease may be said to be attended with danger, but small pox is attended with more than ordinary danger, and for that reason awakens in the human mind serious apprehensions when it prevails as an epidemic. Vaccination has shorn small pox of a great part of this danger, not that it is of use after the disease has been received into the constitution, but as a preventive and protection against taking the disease at all.

Small pox is a malady that dates back over six hundred years before the Christian era, and it is really a matter of wonder that its nature and its cure was not discovered long before the time of Jenner, to whom is entitled the honor for the discovery of vaccination.

Jenner's discovery is not an hundred years old, as he died as late as 1823. His discovery, we need hardly say, was violently opposed by many of the medical men of his own day, but as sufficient proof of its value we may add, that the English Government awarded him $150,000 for his discovery, regarding him as a benefactor of humanity.

Since that time vaccination has been looked upon as a sure protection against the infection of small pox; and there are but few arms that have not been held forward to have its protecting influence introduced. That it has been of less avail may be attributed to the fact, that many persons have not believed in its efficacy and even in those where it has been done, it has been carelessly attended to, in consequence of the pay being insufficient to warrant a competent physician from giving it the necessary attention.

In vaccinating a patient, the physician should visit, or at least see his patient four times: At first, when the virus is introduced. Second, to ascertain whether it has introduced itself into the constitution, so as to destroy the aptitude to the disease, which it is sure to do, and third to note its progress, and fourth to pick the pock from the arm, after the nineteenth up to the twenty-first day, when the vaccine disease, or the vaccination runs through the course which renders the system safe from the disease.

We need hardly repeat, after what we have already said, that small-pox is one of those diseases in which by the first invasion, the human body is rendered innocuous to a second attack, not that it might not occur, for exceptions are held to every rule, but we may say, that we have never known a case of small-pox after we have vaccinated the patient and watched it to the marturing of the vaccine disease. When we were attending a general practice in Bedford county over twenty-five years ago, we remember of vaccinating many persons, and we always made the promise that if any of our patients got small-pox after our vaccination, we would attend them without charge. We were never called upon to do so, although in one instance we vaccinated seventy persons in one day, at a school house by contract, and we would here state, that when vaccination has taken perfectly and has run its course, there is barely a possibility of their taking the disease. We are led therefore to infer that in those cases where small-pox has occurred after vaccination, that it has been in consequence of its being improperly done, in the first instance. What we mean to say, that when vaccination is well done, the disease can never occur, nor need vaccination be repeated. This brings us of course to the question which is often asked, Need vaccination be repeated? We may answer this question in this way. It costs little and will do no harm. If the first is rightly done, it will not take, and if it be not the second will take and if it does not, neither will the small-pox be taken.

The conclusion at which we have arrived, is that the vaccination protects and renders the system insusceptible to the invasion of the disease. If it is destroyed before it is matured it protects as far as it goes. We have frequently vaccinated the same person a week apart, and the pocks of the vaccine disease would all end together, showing conclusively that each protects as far as it goes. We do not publish this as wishing to attend to any small-pox cases, or even as desiring cases to vaccinate, as our business is confined exclusively to our office. We have paid especial attention to diseases of the skin, and as small-pox may be regarded as belonging to that class, we have thought the publication of these suggestions might be of advantage to the public. We therefore ask their publication in your columns.

Cigar Makers' International Union.

BOSTON, September 9.—The Cigar Makers' International Union to-day elected the following officers: President, Edwin Johnson, of Baltimore; Vice-Presidents, John H. Hayden, of New Haven, and Peter Cady, of Troy; Secretary, August Hart, of Boston; Assistant Secretary, Jos. Sterrets, of Omaha. A proposition to make the Union a benefit association was lost. The constitution was amended by erasing the word "white," thus doing away with color distinction in membership.

VERDICT IN THE EASTERN RAILROAD DISASTER.

BOSTON, September 10.—The Coroner's jury on the Eastern Railroad this morning agreed upon a verdict, which was transmitted to Coroner Forsaith and approved by him, about four o'clock this afternoon. The following is the verdict: That the persons then and there lying dead came to their deaths through the collision of trains on the Eastern Railroad, about twenty minutes past eight o'clock on the evening of the 26th day of August, near the railroad depot in Revere. Now, the jurors further find that the collision was caused by the negligence of John S. Nowland, conductor of the Beverly train, upon which said persons were thus killed, and Ashbel S. Brown, engineer of the colliding Pullman train. The former failed to notify the latter by signal or otherwise that his (the said Nowland's) train had been delayed on the road after starting about twenty minutes, and said Nowland would have known had he consulted his watch that the Pullman train was overdue by its regular running time when the said Nowland reached Revere. The engineer of the Pullman train had an unobstructed view of at least half a mile of the Beverly train as it stood at the depot at Revere directly before the collision, and could and should have seen the tail light of said train in season to avoid a collision. The jury further find that Samuel O. Lunt, depot master at Boston, was remiss in his duty in not correctly transmitting an order of the superintendent to the engineer of the Pullman train to look out for trains ahead, thus depriving the engineer of information that might have enabled him to avoid the Beverly train. The more remote cause, but not less certain, of the disaster was a delay in the time of starting the Beverly train from the depot in Boston, said delay being occasioned by the gross inadequacy of rolling stock necessary for the safe and timely transit of passengers on said road. The jury further find that frequent delays in the time of starting, occasioned by extra or excursion trains, delayed the running of the regular trains, thus adding to the perils of railroad travel by the necessity of telegraphic communication with the trains of the road. The need of approved appliances for the safety of trains, risk from fire attending the use of explosive burning fluids, want of siding at the Saugus branch and an entire insufficiency of accommodation, have failed to receive that consideration which their importance demanded. We therefore find that the President and Directors of the Eastern Railroad corporation are to a great extent responsible for the loss of life aforesaid.
